H. ANDERSON IS CONVICTED ON FORGERY CHARGE

Ballot.

Penalty of Five Years in Prison for Altering the League's Accounts.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Antislavery League of New York, was found guilty of forgery in the third degree. The maximum penalty is not more than five years in prison.

The jury, in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, spent one hour and 38 minutes in deliberation, and on a second ballot, voted Anderson guilty on both counts of the indictment, which charged him with directing false entry of money in the books of the league.

Judge Tompkins set Feb. 8 as the day for sentence. Anderson was not present under arrest, his bail of $5,000 being continued. It is expected an appeal will be taken. Four other indictments for grand larceny and extortion are pending against him.

At the verdict, Anderson gulped several times—that was all. The announcement of the jury foreman, David Alexander, a clothing clerk, was not audible.

Justice Tompkins repeated it. "Guilty," as charged in the indictment.

The courtroom was filled, but there was no demonstration. Just as Tompkins had announced that anyone making a demonstration would be held in contempt of court.

Anderson did not stand in the prisoner's dock. He sat at the counsel table. Neither was his history taken. He left the court with his friends, and was followed by a crowd, including photographers, who set off flashlights. One of those accompanying him appeared to be a policeman to disperse the crowd which then fell back.

Charles J. Lallemand, a man and a wine cutter, who was juror No. 10, said after he started home how the verdict was reached.

He left the court with Augustus Lallemand, son of the old New York family of that name, who was No. 5, and who advised Lallemand to talk. Lallemand, however, said he saw no reason not to.

When the jury retired, Lallemand said, Alexander, the foreman, made a brief speech. A ballot was then taken and 10 votes were for conviction. One was for acquittal and one was blank. The latter was cast by Melvin Oppenheimer, a retail salesman of haberdashery who explained it was his first jury service.

He did not know about the voting. The one for acquittal was John Gilgar, state executor. Several jurors talked to Gilgar separately. After 25 minutes the jury went to dinner. They returned at 8 o'clock, when deliberations were resumed.

Convicted on Transfer in Books. Gilgar, Lallemand said, finally told the others that if the books of the league showed changes in the money had been made before the indictment by the District Attorney, he would vote guilty. These changes constituted the transfer of $4,000 from the salary account of O. Berthel Phillips, then collector of funds to his expense account, after he had complained that Anderson had received the money in a "split" Phillips' commissions and Phillips might be compelled to pay income tax on it as the record stood. The books were examined and the changes were ascertained to have been made prior to the investigation. Another ballot was taken and the verdict reached.

No statements on the verdict were made by Anderson, his counsel or District Attorney Pantan.

One special courtesy was shown Anderson. For the first time in the history of the Criminal Courts building, so far as could be recalled, a defendant was not placed in the custody of the Sheriff when the jury retired. It was said that was in accordance with instructions of Justice Tompkins.

The defense contended that Anderson, by directing transfer of $4,000 from a salary to an expense account of the books of the Antislavery League, defrauded the Federal and State governments and the league.

Justice An "Unholy Arrangement." Assistant District Attorney Pantan devoted the last half hour of his argument to the jury to a bitter denunciation of Anderson. Before he concluded, Anderson, seated behind his lawyers, was seen to wipe his eyes.

Pantán characterized Anderson's commission "split" agreement with Phillips as an "unholy arrangement"; called the proceeds "unholy monies" and declared that

DRY LEADER CONVICTED

WILLIAM H. ANDERSON.

"all the entries under discussion and the transactions concerning them reeked with dishonesty and criminality."

Referring to "John T. King," vanished stranger who, Anderson had testified, made him a gift of $25,000, and "Henry Mann," the equally mysterious New York publicity man that the league leader had declared had done publicity work for the organization and to whom he paid $24,700 of the sum given him by "King," the prosecutor asserted the story strained credibility.

Near the close of his summation he intimated that the Federal Government might yet take steps on the income tax phase of the case.

Poor Bookkeeping, Defense Claim. In his summation former Gov. Charles S. Whitman, chief defense counsel, contended that the Federal Government had not been defrauded of income tax returns, as the money admittedly taken by Anderson from Phillips was credited by the defendant to the league's "poor bookkeeping," but it is a far cry from poor bookkeeping to forgery.

The forgery indictment on which Anderson was tried was one of five found by a special grand jury last July, in which grand larceny and extortion also are charged. The case was brought to the attention of the District Attorney by Phillips, who had been discharged by Anderson from his post of fund solicitor for the league on the previous April 20. Phillips, who was one of the chief prosecuting witnesses at the trial, testified that Anderson had compelled him to "split" his collection commissions with him when he received more than $10,000 annually, because the league had, according to Phillips, refused to have a man working for him who got more than he did.

EBAN GANGSTER FINED $100 IN

Edward Lananah—Arrested Last April in Front of Clayton Courthouse.

Edward Lananah of 1402 De Soto avenue, known to the police as an Egan gangster, was fined $100 by Circuit Judge McElhinney at Clayton today, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Lananah, and another man, were arrested last April in front of the Clayton Courthouse by Lieut. Robert Kaiser of the St. Louis Police Department, when he found a revolver in the automobile in which they were riding.

Charges were placed against both men, the charge against the other being dismissed because the revolver was found nearest Lananah. Two Egan gangsters were on trial in the Courthouse when the men were arrested.

START WORLD FLIGHT IN WEST
Army Airmen Will 'Hop Off' at Los Angeles About March 15.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Los Angeles, Cal., has been selected by the army air service as the starting point for the attempted around-the-world flight. Original plans to begin the flight from Seattle, Wash., or Washington, D. C., have been modified accordingly.

Major-General Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, announced the altered program today and said the attempt to encircle the globe would begin about March 15. The probable route from Los Angeles to Seattle, he said, would be along a line East of the Mojave Desert, over the San Joaquin Valley to San Francisco, to Sacramento and from there to Ashland and Eugene, Ore., and Seattle.

"This decision was arrived at," Patrick said, "because the planes to be used in the flight are now at Cloverfield, Santa Monica, about 15 miles from Los Angeles. By starting from this point about March 15, the aviators will have the opportunity to test their motors, planes and instruments in flying up the coast and they will be at the farthest possible point in Alaska to hop across the Pacific at the first open weather."

TITLES AT STAKE IN CONTEST OVER BABY 'COUNTESS'

Russian Mother of Child Was Friend of Polish
'Prince' Who Married
Mrs. Wendell Phillips.

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Rene plays with her dolls. Or she draws pictures of Kings with square jaws and round eyes and of Queens with long necks and long hair. And at night when she goes upstairs, she gets frightened from time to time by a shadow in the hall, the wind against the pane or anyone of the bogies that haunt the bedtime hour of a girl of four.

Rene doesn't know that shadows and bogies, too real to be frightened away by mother's kisses, are bobbing, pointing and glooming around her.

A fortune in France, it is said, swings in the balance. A great Government's agents are snooping along her trail. And lawsuit after lawsuit is being filed and fought in the courts, titles of Prince and Princess and Count and Countess are being sneered at or defeated.

It is called, in the "Countess de Montesse." Eight years ago, the story goes, her mother was the "Countess Claude de Montesse," a woman of beauty and wealth in St. Petersburg. Then came the war, the first successes and the final disasters to Russian arms, the revolt, and the slaying of the "Czar. It is alleged that the Count de Montesse was killed and the "Countess" fled. In Constantinople she met "Prince" Nicholas Vladimir Delippe-Lipski, said to be an old Polish family stemming back to royalty. They went to London. There, four years ago, Rene was born.

Leaving her daughter behind, the "Countess" came to New York. She met the "Prince" here again and was his good friend, helping him in one or two enterprises. On June 5, 1921, in a rooming house in West Eighty-eighth street, the "Countess" died. "Poor girl," mourned—and continued his various ventures. One of them was his marriage to Mrs. Wendell Phillips, founder of the "Carry on Club" for disabled soldiers.

"Prince Lippe-Lipski and his bride went to London and called at the home where Rene had been left. They reported finding her on the floor, playing with her dolls, knowing nothing and caring less that St. Petersburg had become Petrograd, and that there had been death in a New York rooming house. Mrs. Phillips was convinced by the child and brought her to America, where in New Jersey she was formally adopted.

Allegation Suit Filed. But Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder, Mrs. Phillips' sister, came into the story and shortly afterward the "Prince" disappeared. Mrs. Phillips brought suit against her sister for $100,000 for alienation of affections. She was awarded a verdict. Then she heard of steps being taken to kidnap Rene.

Dolls and picture books and box crayons were bundled with Rene into a train and Mrs. Phillips took them to a hiding place in Westchester.

Agents of the British Government came to America to inquire into Rene's parentage. There was a rumor that her father had been a British subject. If this were true she was to be taken from Mrs. Phillips. Meanwhile Claude Benoit, a relative and other relatives had been hunting down the trail left by the "Countess de Montesse" when she fled Petrograd in the days of the terror. Claude Benoit is Rene's grandfather, and he is said to have a fortune that some day will go to his heirs. What was Mrs. Phillips, a strange woman of America, to do with the "Countess Rene de Montesse?"

Mrs. Phillips abandoned her retreat in Westchester and went to Washington, taking up her residence at the Carry-on-Club. There she is living now, according to her attorney. If any attempt is made to take Rene away from her she will fight.

Papyrus Left Antwerp Dec. 8 for Halifax With Cargo of Alcohol—Not Heard From Since.

By the Associated Press. HALIFAX, Jan. 30.—The British steamer Papyrus, which left Antwerp for this port Dec. 8, with a cargo of alcohol, has not been heard from since. It is feared she foundered at sea. The Papyrus, formerly the American steamer Susquehanna, registered 1974 tons net.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Advices today that the British freighter Papyrus had been reported overdue at Halifax with a cargo of alcohol recalled the fact that on Jan. 23 the United States Coast Guard cutter Freshman reported the "big British freighter Papyrus" as flagship of the rum fleet off the New Jersey coast.

It could not be learned whether the vessel was the same as that mentioned in the Halifax dispatches.

Only "Moral Indorsement" When the Mayor Signed on Dotted Line for Movie Stock

He Suspected Two Men "Visited Office to Bunco Me," Kiel Says, and Called Secretary in to Hear Their Words.

Somewhere in Mayor Kiel's office file is a neatly engraved certificate representing five shares in the William Christy Cabanne Motion Picture Trust, Ltd. When new it was supposed to be worth $500, but now it isn't worth much, if anything. But the Mayor did not spend any money to get it. Moreover, a jury in Justice of the Peace Martin's court yesterday decided the Mayor won't have to pay for it.

The Mayor didn't want the certificate in the first place and had a strong suspicion that he was being "buncoed" when two glib-tongued representatives of the Cabanne trust sought his "moral indorsement" to the great picture project which would make St. Louis a real movie center.

But it would never do for the Mayor of St. Louis to refuse to "indorse" such a proposition, so he signed on the dotted line. He was so suspicious, though, that he summoned his stenographer to witness the fact that it would cost him nothing to sign. Now he is sure he was the victim of a skin game. So is his testimony.

George T. Priest, attorney for the Cabanne trustees, submitted Mayor Kiel's signature on the subscription list, as he said, and developed the information that all six of the jurors voted Republican at the last national election.

The Mayor's Testimony. Mayor Kiel was invited to tell all about it.

"For a week or more (last March) the telephone rang and letters flooded my office," the Mayor testified. "They wanted me to meet some very distinguished gentleman who had a WONDERFUL proposition for St. Louis. My secretary made the appointment, but the distinguished gentleman, himself, didn't come. At any rate, two men appeared. They were going to convert St. Louis into a real movie picture place. 'We have plenty of money, but we want your indorsement; it won't cost you a cent,' they said. 'I called my secretary in and said to her, 'I want you to listen to what these gentlemen say—that this is not going to cost any cash money.'"

Under cross-examination the Mayor's voice waxed loud, and questions and answers mingled in confusion.

"The two men that came up to me were sharpers!" exclaimed the Mayor. "I suspected it then and called my secretary. Now I know they came up there to bunco me! 'Do you want this jury to believe that you wrote your name, and the figures 500 and a dollar sign, and didn't know you were subscribing to stock?' Attorney Priest asked me."

"I want them to know this is a skin game," the Mayor retorted. "Never Saw Certificate." The stenographer, Miss Clara Meigs, corroborated the Mayor's testimony, and declared she had received the certificate and filed it as a matter of course.

Mayor Kiel recalled to the stand, declared that it was the first he had heard of until he was called over being received. In fact, he had never seen such a certificate and had forgotten all about the "indorsement" until he was sued and disregarded letters asking for payment.

"Remember, there are a lot of things up there in the Mayor's office," he declared. The jury took two minutes to reach a verdict, and Priest gracefully presented the outcome, departed before it was brought in. He has 10 days in which to appeal to the Circuit Court but it was not announced whether this action would be taken.

The Cabanne trust is now in receivership in New York and its troubles, it is said, began when St. Louis refused to pay about $25,000 in subscriptions. One six-reeler has been produced in a New York studio but its release has not been announced.

WHEN TRUCK ENGINE FAILS
Driver Abandons 169 Cases of Stolen Tobacco When He Cannot Start Again.

Failure of an auto truck engine to function resulted in the recovery yesterday of 169 cases of cigarettes and tobacco, valued at $10,000, stolen last Friday by robbers who held up a transfer truck driven by Police Sergeant Brennan noticed the truck standing in the 3900 block of Shaw avenue, and was told by residents that the engine had stopped and the driver, unable to start it, had departed. When the driver did not return after several hours, the truck was towed to the Magnolia Avenue Station, where a representative of the American Tobacco Co. identified the contents as part of the stolen goods, 108 cases of which still are missing.

The robbery was committed at Spring and Laclede avenues. Steve Schow, driver for the transfer company, was taken off in an automobile, where he was put out. His truck was recovered empty. The truck with the stolen goods found yesterday has been traced to East St. Louis, where it was reported stolen.

UNLS OUT ON $15,000 BOND
Kansans' Hearing on Charge of Complicity in Murder Feb. 26.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. HUTCHINSON, Kan., Jan. 30.—Dr. Kenn B. Uhls, arraigned here today on a charge of complicity in the murder of W. E. Gibbs, aged 26, was released on $15,000 bond, after entering a plea of not guilty. The preliminary hearing was set for Feb. 26. The preliminary hearing on the charge against Uhls, who stole $102,000 in stock belonging to Gibbs was continued, because of its connection with the murder charge.

Summons in a civil suit of Gibbs' heirs to recover $52,000 could not be served on Uhls, his lawyers using his surrender on the criminal charges as immunity for their client. The suit charges that the stock sold at $102,000 to Gibbs actually was worth only $10,000. A larceny charge against George E. Davidson, stock salesman of Ottumwa, Ia., was dismissed by the State today. There is still a charge of fraud pending against Davidson.

FUGITIVE BANKER BACK HOME AFTER 11-YEAR ABSENCE

Indictment Dismissed on Petition of Citizens — Headed Cotton Firm That Failed for $750,000.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 30.—Leo Lesser, former Memphis cotton factor and at one time president of the Old Bank of Tunica, at Tunica, Miss., who disappeared 11 years ago, returned to Tunica yesterday. A charge of embezzlement of $350,000 pending against him was nolle prossed and announcement was made that Lesser would repay all of the creditors when he was financially able to do so.

The indictment pending against him since 1913 was nolle prossed after a petition had been presented in Circuit Court bearing approximately 400 signatures, asking that the charge against him be dismissed.

Lesser, in addition to his office of president of the bank at Tunica, was head of the firm of Lesser, Ely & Co., cotton factors here, which failed in 1913. Approximately $750,000 was said to have been involved in the failure. According to Cameron Wilson, receiver for the firm, creditors were paid approximately 35 cents on the dollar.

Lesser has been in California.

WILD RUSH FOR STEEL ON EXCHANGE
50,000 Shares Change Hands in Half-Hour, Following Extra Dividend.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—One of the wildest stock market romances in recent years took place this morning when thousands of buying orders poured into the exchange as a result of the declaration of an extra dividend of 50 cents on the common stock of the United States Steel Corporation, first gains of action issues ranging from 1 to 6 points.

The first sale of United States Steel common, which was not recorded for several minutes because of the accumulation of orders, was 7000 shares at 106 or 2 1/2 above yesterday's close.

Wall street was taken completely by surprise by the size of the extra dividend and the substantial increase in the earnings of the Steel Corporation for the last quarter of 1923. Professional bear traders, who had been selling stocks freely on the expectation of purchasing them substantially lower in the expected February reaction, hastened to cover their commitments.

When the opening gong sounded the steel post was surrounded by scores of wildly shouting and gesticulating brokers. It was nearly 10 minutes after trading began before an opening price could be decided upon. The first block of 7000 Steel at 106 was followed by a block of 1300 at 105 1/2. Upward of 50,000 shares of Steel changed hands in the first half hour.

CITY AUDITORIUM CASE NOW BEFORE SUPREME COURT
Argument on Whether Three Words in Ordinance Make Construction Illegal.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. HUTCHINSON, Kan., Jan. 30.—Whether the City of St. Louis can proceed with construction of the proposed new $5,000,000 auditorium and community center building, authorized by vote Feb. 9 last, is being argued today before the State Supreme Court in banc on appeal from a decision by Division No. 4 of St. Louis Circuit Court sustaining a demurrer by the city.

In this case, Mayne G. Halbrueger asked the Circuit Court to enjoin the city from buying a site for the auditorium or proceeding with any preparations for construction of the building on the ground that the uses to which such a building would be put were not "public purposes" within the meaning of the law. Three words, "and other purposes," in that part of the ordinance authorizing the auditorium and designating its uses were alleged to throw the doors open to private as well as public use.

MRS. HEDDA HOPPER.

WILL SET ASIDE BY JURY
Frederick Bodenstedt's Estate of $15,000 Involved.

After a trial lasting nine days, a jury in Circuit Judge Hartmann's court today set aside the will of Frederick Bodenstedt, retired contractor, who died June 20, 1922, at the age of 94 years. In his will, executed Feb. 4, 1922, he left his estate valued at $15,000 to his niece, Mrs. Welhelmina Banker, 2520 North Grand, who acted as his housekeeper, cutting off his only daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Kern, with $5.

Mrs. Kern alleged that he was of unsound mind and unduly influenced by Mrs. Banker when he made the will. Mrs. Banker denied it. In the will Bodenstedt stated that he disinherited his daughter because of the humility resulting from a previous unsuccessful effort by her to have him declared insane.

DE WOLF HOPPER IS DIVORCED FIFTH TIME

Interlocutory Decree From Musical Comedy Star.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—De Wolf Hopper, matrimonial veteran and musical comedy star, was divorced yesterday for the fifth time. Mrs. Eida F. Hopper, known on the stage as Hedda Hopper, obtained an interlocutory decree and custody of her 7-year-old son, Billy, from Justice Van Sickle in the Supreme Court at Long Island City.

Mrs. Hopper instituted her suit last July. The actor did not defend it. Testimony was taken before Seamore K. Fuller, referee, whose report was approved yesterday.

Silvio Hein, musical director of "Erminie," testified that in Boston in November, 1920, Hopper borrowed the key to his room, explaining he had "a date with a chorus girl." Elliott S. Furman testified of misconduct by Hopper in the Pelham Inn in July, 1921.

Grecian Premier's Latest Illness Causes Wife to Be Summoned From Paris.

By the Associated Press. ATHENS, Jan. 30.—The condition of Premier Venizelos, who was stricken ill during a heated debate in the National Assembly yesterday, is such as to cause cancellation of all engagements for 10 days. His wife has been summoned from Paris.

The attack, which took the form of heart trouble, is said by physicians to have resulted from his extremely nervous condition, resulting in almost a breakdown. While the Premier's condition is not regarded as grave, his friends are concerned over the possibility that he will be obliged to relinquish active political leadership.

An extraordinary Cabinet meeting was held this morning to consider measures necessary to carry on the Government in Venizelos' absence. There is increasing probability that the Venizelos Government will resign, owing to the Premier's breakdown and the pressing internal and external difficulties facing the country.

COUGH SCARED HIM INTO GOING WEST

On the way, he found Milk Emulsion, also his health.

"A couple of years ago, I came under the Government's care, being a disabled soldier, and I reckon I have taken pretty near all the medicine that there is on the market. Finally the examining physician of my district told me I wouldn't live six months if I stayed in Maine. So I got scared and started west to find a dry climate, but as far west as I got was Indianapolis and Milk Emulsion.

"I gained 14 pounds on the first four bottles of your Emulsion. I do not give Indiana any credit for this because it is as damp there as it is in Maine, but I do give Milk Emulsion the credit for saving my life. In addition to building up my flesh and strength it soon relieved the serious cough that I had, and I improved so fast that it was not long until I was able to return home.

"Now I am feeling fine. I fed Milk Emulsion to both my babies and they are as fat as fat little pigs."

T. Edgar Dighton, 20 Pine st., Portland, Me.

Don't wait until your weakened condition gives you cause to despair. Start new building up strength and flesh, and give nature a chance to fight off disease. Milk Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milk Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action; it is a truly corrective medicine, doing away with all need of pills and purgatives. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, and thus build flesh and strength. Milk Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened. It is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble is promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

BOARD CONTINUES CASES OF DOCTORS

Depositions to Be Taken and Decisions Will Be Reached on Feb. 18.

The State Board of Health, meeting at the Municipal Courts Building today, decided to continue the case of Dr. Thomas P. Dunn and A. D. Farber both charged with "unprofessional and dishonorable conduct," until Feb. 18. Depositions will be taken on that day, and on Feb. 18 the cases will be decided by the board. The penalty, upon conviction, is revocation of license to practice medicine in Missouri.

Testimony in Dr. Dunn's case was heard today, and that in Dr. Farber's case yesterday.

Dr. Dunn was charged with practicing in connection with the office of the Colonial Laboratories in the Olympia Building, 1923 North Grand boulevard. The Colonial establishment makes patent medicines, it was stated.

Dr. Dunn said he had his office opposite one of the Colonial concern's offices, and that he used one of their offices for receiving his patients. He also said he had an agreement with the company by which patients were sent to him. He denied any responsibility for the company's advertising, and said he had warned one of the company's representatives in advertising matter.

He said he was a former instructor in the University of Tennessee Medical School, of which he was a graduate. He said Dr. E. P. North, president of the State Board of Health, warned him last August against continuing his association with the Colonial concern, and he moved his office to the West End location, where he has been since.

There was considerable testimony about an electric machine in his office, and Dr. Dunn said its beneficial effect was largely in the patients' minds.

Witnesses Fail to Appear. Some persons desired as witnesses in both Dr. Dunn's case and Dr. Farber's case did not appear, and the postponement and deposition-taking was decided upon. Dr. Farber is alleged to have treated patients at the European clinic, 1124 North Broadway.

The witnesses yesterday were Dr. A. H. Hamel, 1449 South Grand boulevard; Dr. Robert E. Schlueter, 4642 Magnolia place; Dr. C. E. Burford, 345 Westgate avenue; Dr. P. C. Wainwright, Cleveland, O.; and John O. Fishwick, special investigator of the City Health Department. Drs. Hamel, Schlueter and Burford are former presidents of the St. Louis Medical Society, and Dr. Wainwright, at the request of Gov. Hyde and the State Board of Health, is investigating medical schools in this State.

The charges against Dr. Farber are based on literature, alleged to have been misleading, deceitful and fraudulent, which was sent out by the European Clinic during Dr. Farber's connection with it. All five witnesses testified to their belief that the literature was untruthful.

The defense, it was indicated, will be that Dr. Farber was unaware of the distribution of the advertising matter, and of its claims. Dr. Farber's attorney denied, however, that the matter was untruthful and asked Dr. Hamel if his characterization of it as such was not prompted by an ethical doctor's aversion to advertising. Dr. Hamel replied that the advertising of the European Clinic, regardless of ethics, was deceptive.

IT IS Vandervoort policy always to sell every article at a price as low as that asked elsewhere for articles of equal quality or quantity.

FEDERALS CAPTURE 117 CARS OF WAR SUPPLIES

Booty Taken After Victory at Esperanza-Included Sixteen Locomotives.

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 20.—Orizaba, industrial center and largest city in the State of Vera Cruz, has been captured by Federal forces, according to official advice received here by Mexican Consul I. Laguna. Orizaba was taken yesterday afternoon, the message said. The capture of Orizaba was effected by Federal troops under the command of Gen. Eugenio Martinez, whose forces are now said to be advancing on Cordoba. The taking of Orizaba followed the capture of Esperanza. Rebel forces under Gen. Guadalupe Sanchez are said to have fled without resistance. Cordoba is not expected to be won easily as a difficult mountainous terrain of 25 miles has to be covered. From Cordoba the land slopes to the plains of Vera Cruz. Several rebel trains are said to have fallen into the hands of the Federals.

By Radio From Mexico City Direct to the Post-Dispatch (Station KSD) for the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 20.—Complete official reports concerning the Federal victory at Esperanza are still unavailable, although the War Department has announced that 16 engines and 132 cars were captured in the recent offensive, including 60 cars loaded with food and ammunition, and 57 with horses and automobiles.

Railway service along the eastern front has been extended from Mexico City to Oriental, the department announced.

Fighting is proceeding in the vicinity of Ponditlan, upon the Jalisco front, where the vanguard under Gen. Anuro is engaging the rear guard of the rebels under Gen. Alvaro, according to press dispatches from Celaya, headquarters of Gen. Obregon.

Ponditlan, the point of the Federal advance, has been reached; and the bridge over the Zula River burned during the rebel retreat, makes it impossible for Federal military trains to follow closely the advance guard. Gen. Escobedo's columns have reached Acapulco, the specialist add, and are pursuing the enemy, who have retired to Morelia.

Revolutionary forces around Vera Cruz are preparing to inaugurate guerrilla warfare following the defeat they have suffered at Llano Grande, Boca Del Monte and Esperanza, according to wireless messages sent to Gen. Diez in Jalisco by Gen. de la Huerta, revolt leader, which were intercepted and given out by the War Department.

C. B. Quinn, a tire dealer at 3212 Locust boulevard, with an invited guest at his heels, reached in to turn on the lights of his automobile standing in front of that address late yesterday afternoon. Then he and his friend leaped backward. An uninvited guest had taken possession of the car and was letting Quinn know he intended to hold it.

A long head had shot forward, sharp fangs had raked Quinn's gloved hand and a series of deep, rumbling growls announced that a large dog of the lean bound variety considered the car his right of possession. Quinn decided a policeman was better equipped than he to argue the case. The policeman drove his arguments home with the point of his club.

CASCARA—BEST TONIC LAXATIVE KNOWN

ASSERTS CITY CAN HANDLE GARBAGE FOR $1 A TON

Research Bureau Presents
Figures at Hearing—
Lowest of Four Bids Submitted Is $1.95 a Ton.

Figures intended to show that the city can dispose of its garbage for $1 a ton are before the Board of Public Service, alongside of four bids for disposal of the garbage by contract, the lowest of them being at the rate of $1.95 a ton.

The $1-a-ton figure was presented to the board yesterday by the Bureau of Municipal Research, as a pair of other figures intended to show that Klein & Katz, holders of the present garbage disposal contract, had hired city facilities to execute a part of the work, and had paid the city only a fraction of what the city paid them for the same work.

Meyer Katz, head of Klein & Katz, was a heavy bidder from the Night and Day Bank in the days when Cashier Meininger was carrying on the looting process which later closed the bank, and which has caused Meininger to be convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to a five years' penitentiary term.

Bids Offered.

Klein & Katz have the present garbage disposal contract at $2.10 a ton, and their bid, opened with others yesterday, was at the same figure for the coming year. The other bids were: Jefferson Distributing Co., $1.95; Frank H. Beckmann, $1.95; T. L. Frazier, $2.25.

Klein & Katz had the contract for 1935-36 at $1.60 a ton. C. W. Atkins, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research, presented to the board, shortly before opening of the new bids, a detailed statement of two cases in which Klein & Katz appeared to have profited largely by hiring the city to do its own work, which it was paying them under their contract to do.

He charged that on 15 days in the latter part of 1935, Klein & Katz hired a trap boat from the city at $25 a day, and hired the city harbor boat to tow 10 barge loads to the middle of the river for dumping, at a cost of $100 to Klein & Katz. The firm also hired the harbor boat at $100 a trip, to tow barges to an island. For this service it paid the city $925. For the same work, it was then shown, the city had to pay Klein & Katz $1750 under their contract. Allowing for the wages of three barge laborers, Atkins figured that Klein & Katz got work done by the city for 50 cents a ton, for which work the city was paying them $1.60 a ton, leaving an unearned increment of $1.10 a ton for the firm.

Cites Another Instance.

Last July and August, Atkins charged, Klein & Katz got the city harbor boat to haul five barge loads to a hog farm, and agreed to pay the city $750, but have not paid yet, so far as the records show. The firm got $1932 for this work, Atkins figured that the city got 51 cents a ton for this hauling, and that, at the $2.10 rate, the Klein & Katz profit, even after it pays the city's bill, will be $1.59 a ton.

Atkins suggests that the city, instead of renting its own equipment to contractors at a fraction of what it is paying them, should use the equipment and do its own garbage disposal.

"If the charge of $1 cents a ton, made in the second instance cited, to Klein & Katz, is the cost of this work," he said, "when the city can add 15 cents for barges and labor, and dispose of its garbage for $1 a ton, saving $80,000 a year." He said the city could buy three barges for $15,000, and leave a net saving of $45,000 for the first year.

Special Hearing Friday.

The Board of Public Service will hold a special hearing on Atkins' charges Friday. Some members of the board believe that Atkins' figures do not cover all elements of cost which must be met by the garbage disposal contractor. Whereas the use of city facilities was only for certain short periods, the contractor must take the garbage the year 'round, and must find a place to put it—not always an easy matter in a populous countryside where people have noses and where courts are ready to grant injunctions.

The city is now disposing of a part of its garbage through the municipal incinerator at the river and Chouteau avenue, but the cost of this disposal is greater than under the Klein & Katz contract. Katz, in a statement regarding Atkins' figures, said they were leading, and that he hired city equipment by the day, when his own equipment was broken down, and that he lost money by the arrangement.

Woman Reports Holding Attempt. Miss Agnes Stolz, 24 years old, of 2713A Madison street, told policemen she routed a thief who attempted to rob her, near Jefferson avenue and Howard street, at 6 p. m. yesterday. She said she threatened her with a weapon he carried in an overcoat pocket and ordered her into an alley when she told him she had no pocketbook. Instead of complying, she said, she slapped him in the face and he ran.

Duo-ART REPRODUCING PIANO

There are only two ways to hear Paderewski actually play the piano. One is to hear his concert. This opportunity comes but once in a long time. The other is to hear his playing reproduced on the Duo-Art so realistically that you almost wonder why you cannot see him at the keyboard.

Eighty per cent of the world's great pianists record exclusively for the Duo-Art. Consider this wonderful privilege for your own home.

The Duo-Art, built in the Steinway, Weber, Steck, Aeolian, Wheelock and Stroud pianos, can be bought for as low as $695 and upwards, on very convenient terms of payment. We will also make a liberal allowance for your present instrument.

WAREHOUSE MOB CASES WILL BE CONTINUED INDEFINITELY

State Announces It Will Not Be Able to Proceed With Trials Monday.
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20.—
Trial of a score or more of Morehouse Parish citizens for alleged mob outrages in connection with the trial of Judge Odum had not yet been resumed when their cases are called at Bastrop Monday, it is announced by State Attorney-General A. V. Coco. He declared the State was not ready to proceed at this time and that the trials would be continued indefinitely.

The trials got under way last November and had reached the point where Capt. J. K. Skipwith, "exalted cyclops" of the Morehouse Parish Ku Klux Klan and several others, had been convicted of carrying firearms, when the defense suddenly brought the proceedings to a halt by moving that Judge Fred M. Odum be disqualified. The State Supreme Court held that Judge Odum had not afforded grounds for his removal and directed that he try the balance of the cases.
The charges grew out of the operations of masked men in the parish, which culminated Aug. 24,

1932, in the kidnaping of Watt Daniel, T. F. Richard and several others by a hooded band near Bastrop. The companions of Daniel and Richard were released a few hours later, but nothing was heard of them until two mutilated bodies found in Lake La Fourche four months later were identified as theirs.
Sues E. Y. Clarke for $12,100.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20.—
Suit for $12,100 has been brought here by Edgar I. Fuller of Omaha against Edward Young Clarke of Atlanta, Ga., who says he is still Imperial giant of the Ku Klux Klan. Fuller's petition states that he formerly was Clarke's secretary, and that $11,000 of the sum demanded represents salary due him.

The petition alleges Fuller was employed under contract for a year at $1000 a month, but that he received only one month's pay, when, it is alleged, Clarke told him he did not have funds with which to pay him. Clarke denied he ever had given Fuller a contract to act as his secretary.

committee on reparations, when it arrived in Berlin last night, was to remain here until it comes to an understanding with the German Government on stabilization of the

I learned they were unanimous in the belief that it was necessary to armed police and by minor Ger-

have an opportunity to settle the reparation problem; but they are far from ready to say what the solution will be. They emphasize that harmony has been easily maintained in the committee.This is the seventeenth reparation conference, said one of the experts, "but it will not simply drift to no result. Either reparations are settled or there will be a big smash."Organization of Gold Bank Deemed of Prime Importance.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—Germany's hopes of reaching a solution of her reparation problem center in the forthcoming discussion here of the Dawes committee and the second body of experts with Germany's official spokesman.No program for the deliberation in Berlin has been agreed upon, although in official quarters it is assumed that the projected bank of emission will be the first topic of the agenda.

German Interest in Dawes.

Such German optimism as asserts
itself seems largely prompted by faith in the impartial procedure
and in the qualifications of the committee. Interest, apparently centered in Gen. Dawes, who already has become a picturesque figure in Germany on the strength of his outspoken language and the successful manner in which he is conducting the deliberations.In addition to Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, the Dawes committee will immediately summon Dr. Lohse, the Minister of Finance; Dr. Hamm, the Minister of Economics; and Dr. Oeser, the Minister of Transportation.While the reorganization of Germany's railways will constitute one
of the main problems for discussion in connection with the German budgetary reform, official and banking circles view the projected organization of a gold bank as the paramount issue, asserting that Germany's life can be traced to the uncertain state of her currency.

Objections to Bank.

There is objection to active foreign control in the projected bank of emission, based on the conviction that such influence might determine the new bank's discount rate and other policies to the detriment of German industry. Some critics of the plan warn against surrendering a new gold bank before definite adjustment of political issues, in which they include not only reparation payments, but also the organization of the Ruhr and the resolution of the eastern's status in the Rhineland.Pending definite adjustment of these issues, the establishment of a new bank is viewed by a pronounced minority as leading to industrial crisis which has actually in the case of Berlin Germany's economy recently suffered to a great extent.

German interest in Dawes.
Such German optimism as asserts
itself seems largely prompted by
faith in the impartial procedure
and in the qualifications of the centers in Gen. Dawes, who already has become a picturesque figure in

committee will immediately sum-

Minister of Transportation.

While the reorganization of Germany's railways will constitute one
of the main problems for discussion in connection with the German budgetary reform, official and banking circles view the proposed organization of a gold bank as the largest issue, asserting that Germany's life can be traced to the
uncertain state of her currency.

Objections to Bank.
There is objection to active for-

of emission, based on the suspicion

ration payments, but also the occupation of the Ruhr and the maintenance of the entente's armies in the Rhineland.

Pending definite adjustment of these issues the establishment of a new bank is viewed as a premature venture in banking and industrial circles which are nominally in favor of having Germany's currency speedily restored to a gold basis.

MACDONALD AND POINCARÉ
EXCHANGE CANDID LETTERS
ON NATIONAL DIFFERENCESBritish Premier Asks Frenchman to Meet Him Half Way in Seeking an Agreement on All Divergent Views.

(Copyright, 1924,
Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
and Chicago Daily News.)
LONDON, Jan. 30.—Premier Macdonald today received a personal reply from Premier Poincaré, couché in the most friendly terms reciprocating the sentiments of good will contained in the Macdonald note sent Tuesday through the British Ambassador at Paris.

This initial exchange of greetings is regarded in London as the first touch of rapier between two doctors. Poincaré has defeated three British Prime Ministers in similar contests, but he now faces a powerful antagonist, armed with a new weapon. Macdonald has the former Prime Ministers' lacking the courage of his convictions.

He believes the French policy must be altered. He is carefully preparing the ground. His first endeavor probably will be aimed at the referring to The Hague court of the whole question of the Rhineland separatist movement.
Poincaré's proposal to submit the question to the Ambassadors' conference has not yet been submitted to the British Foreign Office, but his eventual reception, certainly will be cold and unenthusiastic atmosphere in Downing street.

Macdonald Avoided Diplomatic Channels in Approaching Poincaré.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 30.—Prime Minister Macdonald recently sent a personal letter to Premier Poincaré in which he expressed a desire for a settlement of the difficulties between Great Britain and France and for a complete Anglo-French understanding, and Poincaré replied sympathetically. It is understood.

By this action the new head of the British Government picked up the thread of Franco-British relations at the point where it was broken after the interview between Premiers Baldwin and Poincaré in Paris last autumn. The letter was dispatched in accordance with the British statesman's aversion to the traditional methods of diplomacy and his preference for more direct means of negotiations.

The letter, written as soon as Macdonald was installed in Downing street, was delivered through Lord Crewe, the British Ambassador at Paris. It informed Poincaré that the new Government had been organized, and remarked with perfect candor that relations between the two countries, for several years understood reasons, had ceased to be as friendly as formerly and that public opinion in Great Britain viewed the French policy with a certain degree of suspicion, being somewhat nervous about what might happen in Europe.

The Prime Minister then, according to the Daily Telegraph, expressed a willingness "to meet Poincaré half way in an attempt to achieve a final, complete and clear settlement." He also voiced the hope that the French Government in the same conciliatory spirit, would be ready to discuss all outstanding questions.

British Government Seeking Formula for Recognition of Russia.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, Jan. 30.—British recognition of Russia having been decided upon in principle, the Government here is working on a formula upon which such recognition can be made. The Government hopes to put the recognition into effect before Parliament meets Feb. 12.

From a reliable source the Post-Dispatch and New York World correspondent has obtained the following compromise plan, which is said tentatively to have been agreed upon:

First, agreement must be reached between the two Governments regarding past Anglo-Russian differences; second, there must be cessation of Russian anti-British propaganda in Asia; third, Russia must undertake to settle private debts owed to British subjects; the question of State claims will be reserved for a future general European conference on debts. This program has not yet been definitely settled and discussion within the Government and soviet officials is still going on.

The Daily Herald, official labor organ, says on the subject today:

"Soviet which have been circulated that a mission of observation is being sent to Moscow to examine the possibility of recognition may be dismissed. The Government intends no such step, nor is such an investigation required; for,
in principle, the question of recognition is already decided. All that remains to be settled now is the precise manner in which it shall be carried out. There are, of course, forces still working furiously for delay upon any pretext. But there is no reason to believe that the stance has arisen, or that declaration of full recognition and consequent resumption of diplomatic relations will be long postponed."

The forces mentioned in this last paragraph probably are permanent officials at the Foreign Office, whose opposition to Russian recognition was cited by Premier Macdonald in his Cabinet yesterday in an explanation of the postponement.

Big Combines Will Be Easy to Socialize, Says Hodge.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 30.—John Hodge, the laborite who was Minister of Labor and Pensions in the coalition government, told a gathering of iron and steel magnates last evening that they were preparing the ground for socialism, of which most of them were afraid.

"The great combines which are being formed in this and other countries," he said, "are simply an evolutionary process and as soon as the steel, iron and tinplate works are all in one big combine it will be easy to socialize it."

Hodge added that one remarkable feature of labor's accession to power was that the people had become reconciled to the movement.

IN STATE WELDED
TO BACK M'ADOOThreatened Discord Among Political Foes of Senator Smoothed Out by David
L. Rockwell.EXECUTIVE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FORMEDPrevious Commitments Cannot Be Withdrawn Because of Entrance of "Favorite Son," Statement Says.

By Curtis A. Betts.

The welding into one executive campaign committee of the various elements of the pro-McAdoo and anti-Reed strength in Missouri, which for a time threatened a disruption of the McAdoo forces, and a decision to supplant Walter K.
Chorn of Kansas City with Charles
C. Oliver of Bloomfield as Missouri manager of the McAdoo campaign, marked the conclusion of two days of conferences that David Ladd Rockwell, national manager for McAdoo, has had with Missouri Democrats.

Chorn becomes a member of the Executive Committee and will have an active part in the campaign to control the Missouri delegation to the national convention, which, according to an announcement last night, will be aggressively carried on in every county in the State, not even excepting St. Louis, where Reed supporters are content that they will be in complete control, and in Kansas City, Reed's home.

Rockwell's conferences with Chorn, Oliver and the Democratic State Committee, and other Democrats, seems to have straightened out satisfactorily the discord threatened in the McAdoo ranks by a dispute on the part of some of those close to the Breckinridge Long organization to ignore some of the St. Louis anti-Reed element, and a corresponding disposition on the part of some of the League of Loyal Democrat members to hold back from an organization of which Long was in virtual control.

Rockwell succeeded in bringing them together, however, and now the McAdoo organization is functioning with every indication of solidarity. While Oliver, the man in charge, is an out-and-out Long man, a majority of the members of the Executive or Advisory Committee is pro-McAdoo and anti-Reed.

The members of this committee,
in addition to Long, Farris, Oliver and Chorn, are former Lieutenant Governor Wallace Crossley of War-rensburg, Charles H. Meyer of St.
Joseph, former State Senator Mrs.
Katherine Halterman of Mount Vernon, member of the Democratic Women's State Committee; Charles
R. Hay, St. Louis; Mr. Jennings Hughes, Keokukville, member of the Democratic Women's State Committee; W. R. Hollister of Jefferson City, former executive secretary of the League of Loyal Democrats; W. D. Vandiver of Columbia, former Congressman; Josiah W. Alexander of Gallatin, former Secretary of Commerce; Col.
Francis M. Curlee, St. Louis, and Frank H. Lee, Joplin.

Issues Closely Drawn.
With the McAdoo organization actively at work, in contrast with the still-hunt policy which prevailed prior to Senator Reed's announcement of his candidacy Sunday, the issues are closely drawn and the fight for delegates has begun. The McAdoo statement is that there are commitments to Mc-Adoo which cannot be withdrawn in favor of any "favorite son" candidate who does not represent the McAdoo policies. In other words the McAdoo organization will not get out of the way for any "favorite son" whose delegates will not go to McAdoo when the favorite son's chances vanish.

Undoubtedly the McAdoo organization was influenced to fight in Missouri by the fact that the more candidates there are with delegates in the convention, the greater the chance for a home name combination against McAdoo.

In the statement issued the Mc-Adoo committee said:
"We appreciate the persuasive
force of an appeal for a home name
—a so-called favorite son. But many Democrats had committed themselves to Mr. McAdoo's candidacy before they knew that a home name would enter the race, and that commitment was not made on account of name, nor personal acquaintance, but because of the principles and policies represented in Mr. McAdoo's candidacy, and reflected by his action."

"Cannot Sacrifice Principle."
"They were made because Mr.

McAdoo represents the achievements of Democracy for eight years
—from 1912 to 1920, and had much to do with their accomplishment."

"These commitments could not be honorably withdrawn for a home man who stood for and reflected by his personal conduct the same policies and principles, but they cannot and will not sacrifice principle and party to gratify the personal ambitions of any man."

"Mr. McAdoo's supporters are for him because he is and always has been a Democrat, and if he is successful his conduct in office will be in harmony with Democratic doctrine and Democratic principles."

The McAdoo headquarters were opened in the American Hotel today. The Reed headquarters are in the Jefferson Hotel.

Disarmament Makes T. R. Mad.
By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—"My brother, Quentin, was probably killed because his airplane was not a good airplane," Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, said before the Kansas Society last night in a preparedness speech. "I myself have led green troops to the front line and have led my own seasoned men, and I know the difference was in the causes," he added.

The doctrine of pacifists and preachers of disarmament, he said, made him so mad he could "jump down and scream."

Denby's Part in Oil Leases Was to "Sign On the Dotted Line"; His Testimony at Hearing Indicated Ignorance of DealsContinually Told Senator Walsh He Must Consult Navy Records, as There Were 'Myriads of Papers' in His Department.BY CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The charge against Secretary of the Navy Denby in the oil leasing scandal is not that he was guilty of any corrupt practice, but that he did not know what was going on. His understanding has been going on. He part in the award of the oil leasing contracts, out of which the Sinclair and Doheny companies expected to make huge profits, appears to have been merely to "sign on the dotted line."

This is the inference which is being drawn from Denby's own testimony on two occasions, before the Senate Oil Investigating Committee.

On the Secretary's second appearance on the stand, Dec. 7 last,
the inquiry then having been understood that Denby had been in the Department when the oil leases were asked him if he recalled how many leases or contracts were made with the Pan-American Petroleum Company.

Denby: No, sir; I do not.

Q: Do you remember what was the first one, or what the first one was about? A: No, I could not tell you exactly now.

Q: Do you recall what the second one was about? A: No.

Q: Or the third one, if there was a third one? A: No, but Senator Walsh, I can get all the information to you very quickly from the records in the Navy Department. But I am afraid I cannot give it to you offhand.

"Such a Myriad of Papers of All Kinds."

Q: I wanted to know simply what you had on your mind about the matter. What part of reserve No. 1
(the California reserve) do you understand has been leased? A: I do not know. I could not tell you about that offhand.

Q: And do you know to whom it has been leased? A: No, I would like to state that connection that of course, there is such a myriad of leases and papers of all kinds, involving a great deal of kind, the Secretary of the Navy cannot recall or keep in his mind.

Q: When you were on the stand before you told us that you understood whatever leases were made were made in order to protect against drainage. A: Yes.

Q: And for no other reason? A:
I think that was the gist of my testimony.

Q: Had your attention been called to the fact that a considerable portion of reserve No. 1 was leased for some reason other than to protect against drainage? A: Not to my recollection.

Q: If that had been done, as a matter of fact, you do not know anything about it? A: I am sorry, Senator, but I cannot from memory testify in detail about the questions you are asking me. The records of the Navy Department will show.

Unable to Answer:
Would Consult Records.

Denby then offered to produce the records, and Walsh replied that he was merely trying to get at what he knew outside the records.
Walsh resumed the examination.
Q: It has been disclosed with reference to reserve No. 1 (pointing to the California reserve) that it was agreed that the Secretary of the Interior should take over the oil reserves and the President had indicated he would so direct, "all papers in regard to this matter were prepared in the Secretary of the Interior's office."

At another point in the examination, Walsh asked Denby whether
he, as Secretary of the Navy, was

of the 16 constituencies into which the country is divided. These agents will nominate candidates
and submit them for Mussolini's approval.

The Popolari are the only party to issue an election manifesto, which the opposition press describes as "laughable." It expresses the party's fidelity to a program of democracy and Christianity and takes up a defined position against Fascism.
The new election system placing all other parties except the Government party in a minority is especially assailed.

Former Premier Orlando has told his friends he will not stand for the new chamber, but this is taken as a prudent line in case the Government list does not include his name. Former Premier Nitti will not participate in the elections
at all, but hopes to obtain permission to travel abroad for a few years.

Proletarian Bloc Falls.
Communists, Marxists and Unitarian Socialists met over the week-end to draw up a proletarian bloc list, but owing to failure to agree on the extent to which they should support or condemn Government actions, it did not see the light. The extremist parties are completely disorganized and lack funds, so little opposition is looked for from them.

The Liberals are also split, while the Democrats are divided into many shades of sympathy and antipathy to the Fascists.

SECRETARY OF NAVY DENBY.

Did Not Know Navy's Policy on Oil Reserves—His Conception of President's Powers to "Do as He Thought Best."not charged with the duty of administering the oil reserves and Denby replied: "Yes, sir."

"General Authority of the President."

Q: Well, did you feel quite satisfied to divest yourself of those duties that were imposed upon and entrusted to you by Congress and turn them over to another Cabinet officer? A: Absolutely, when I thought the other Cabinet officer had a far better method of handling them than I had.

Q: Yes; but the Congress told you to do it. A: Yes, I thought it best to have the control divested from us, and vested in another department.

Denby was unable to cite any specific law giving authority for the transfer of control, but said he thought the case was covered by the "general authority given the President to do anything that he deems best."

Chairman Lenroot asked Walsh
if he wanted the questions answered in that manner and Walsh replied: "No; that will not do me any good at all. I wish the record to show that the Secretary does not know anything about it."

"That is very well," said Denby.
"The record may stand as recorded."

Denby Asked Fall
to Handle Matter.

When Denby first appeared before the committee, Oct. 25, Walsh developed the fact that the executive order of May 31, 1921, by which the control of the oil reserves was transferred from the Navy to the Interior Department, was prepared in the office of Secretary Fall, and that Fall drafted a letter of transmittal for Denby to sign and send to the President.

Denby said that the transfer to the Interior Department was wholly on his initiative. Having learned he said, that there was serious oil drainage from the reserves, he went to Secretary Fall and asked him to handle the matter for the Navy, as his own department did not have the necessary staff or equipment.

"And thereupon," he added,
"these various letters were drawn and the order for the President's signature."

Q: Do you recall what modifications were made between the original draft and the order as it was eventually signed? A: No, sir.

Q: You do not remember what was about at all? A: No, sir.

Q: Well, it appears that the original draft was prepared by the Secretary of the Interior. A: It would appear so from that.

Denby added that after it was agreed that the Secretary of the Interior should take over the oil reserves and the President had indicated he would so direct, "all papers in regard to this matter were prepared in the Secretary of the Interior's office."

At another point in the examination, Walsh asked Denby whether
he, as Secretary of the Navy, was
of the 16 constituencies into which
the country is divided. These
agents will nominate candidates
and submit them for Mussolini's approval.

ENESCO LIKENED TO YSAYE IN HIS PRIMERumanian Court Violinist Is Soloist at Morning Choral Club Concert.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

A VIOLINIST of planetary magnitude swam into the ken of St. Louis music lovers last night at the Odeon. He was George Enesco of Rumania, court violinist at Bucharest, already known here through the symphony orchestra's performance of his compositions, but now making his first visit in the flesh. In appearance, manner and a certain Olympian attitude of style, he resembled the great Eugene Ysaie in his prime.Enesco is a classicist in temperament, and his specialty is the playing of Bach. As an introductory number, he presented Handel's Sonata in D Major, which in the type of most of our fiddlers, is lacking in spectacle and glitter,
and is therefore seldom played.
Under Enesco's bow, the stately melodies swept past on majestic and delicate pinions. Chaconne's legendary "Pavane" invoked the violin's deep intensity of feeling; Grieg's "Pavane d'Esquadrille" organized his faculty for rhythm, and finally, after pieces chosen for substance rather than show, the Saint-Saens "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" revealed him as a master technician of the formidable modern school. The extra was Kreisler's "Liebesleid" and the Paganini-Kreisler Minuet.His Violin a Pierre Heil.
The visitor proved to be artist as well as executive, a player of unmistakable height of mood. His firm and flexible command of the bow was a thing to wonder at, and his control, for purity and modeling richness, was a constant joy. The value of his instrument made one think of one of the imperial masterpieces of Stradivari; what was one's surprise to discover that it was a modern violin, made by Pierre Heil of Lille, France. This contemporary is rivaling the old masters with his instruments of large dimensions and powerful at-tenuance, suited to the spacious concert halls of our day.The chorus of women singers, under the direction of Charles Gal-lard, offered an unbacked program. The name of Joseph Hilber, radical English composer, appeared, we believe, for the first time on a St. Louis program.
His number was "Sunrise," a fabric of old and poignant harmonies set at all easy to sing, as it was without accompaniment. Percy Hilber, represented by a comedy number, "There Was a Pig Went Out to Eat," was heard at his familiar book of unending rule and meager tune with incessant and varied inventions. There were two numbers by Victor Harris, "Invitation to Cecilia," a charming waltz, and "The Singers," besides Arthur Harris's "I'm Worn Away."Cantata by Dennis Taylor.
The chief choral number was "The Highwaysman," a setting by Dennis Taylor of a lengthy poem by Alfred Noyes. The verses are natural, rather than lyric, so that the composer, for his voice part, had to work frequently with which he showed the utmost ingenuity in evading the stereotypes of phrase and harmony. The music followed the sense of the words like a shadow, and frequently attached dramatic effects which probably had not occurred consciously to the poet himself.For this cantata Mr. Taylor composed a piano obligato, rare composition and descriptive skill. Frequently the piano took over the story from the chorus, depicting the life and drum of red coats tramping in the dark, the slipping of his horse and other effects. This was ably played by Paul Fries, while Raymond Koch delivered with his familiar beauty of voice several passages for solo singer.The work was most cordially received, and there were many requests for director, soloist and pianist. Mr. Koch finally refused the two extra-Harry T. Burroughs setting of a spiritual "The Chapel Train," and H. Clay Smith's sacred-comedy, "The Angel Cake."

Conductor by Deems Taylor.
The chief purpose which seems to be involved in this is to relieve an overcrowding which exists in many of the Eastern universities. It is quite easy to see, of course, that overcrowding deprives the students of an intimate touch with instruction. Where overcrowding has been tolerated for a long period of time students frequently graduate without having acquired any well developed conceptions of the studies to which they were directed. It is practical to give young men and young women, as the case may be, as much individual attention as possible. Failing in this the college may not be considered to have met its greatest obligation to society. But there is another angle to the matter which needs to be thought over in this connection. Suppose all of our larger institutions of learning undertook by a process of limitation to exclude, collectively, hundreds of young people who honestly desire to acquire an advanced knowledge to be used for some practical purpose of life? One of two things would of necessity follow. Either the interest in college education would begin to decline, or else in order to meet the apparent need it would be necessary to add to or enlarge our college facilities or perhaps build more colleges. When we start in to limit the number of students and we find thousands excluded from college opportunities we must provide some means of taking care of the outsiders. To neglect this would be to reduce higher institutions of learning to a position of unimportance in the land.

A CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.
From the Dallas News.
TEXAS is going to have a big centennial celebration. Plans for the event have gone far enough to permit that statement to be made with assurance. . . . Not until 1926, strictly speaking, will Texas have attained her century of existence as an Anglo-Saxon Commonwealth. But the seeds of the Texas revolution were sown with the first Anglo-Saxon settlement in 1822, and any date between that and the hundredth anniversary of actual independence may appropriately be selected for commemoration. . . . The date on which the battle of San Jacinto, the deciding engagement in Texas' struggle for independence, was fought is a red letter day in the history of the nation. That struggle was fraught with destiny for the nation. Out of it came the United States' greatest single accession of territory since the Louisiana purchase. In its final effect, it extended the boundaries of this republic from ocean to ocean. Texas, annexation, in addition to the State as now defined, brought with it a strip of territory extending up through Colorado into Wyoming. The Mexican War, a direct outgrowth of the Texas revolution, added California and adjacent Western States. All of these States owing their present identity as members of the Union to the part Texas played may and should be represented in the Texas Centennial Exposition. If the exposition is organized on that basis, with an ample time allowance, we may be sure of its engaging the co-operative attention of the entire Southwest and West.

BULK OF MESSMORE ESTATE ULTIMATELY GOES TO CHARITY

Income From Trust Fund Divided Among Two Sisters and Four Cousins.
The bulk of the estate of John L. Messmore, 63 years old, president of the Ballard-Messmore Grain Co. and former president of the Merchants' Exchange, who died last Friday, will be divided among three St. Louis charitable institutions upon the death of the last beneficiary of a trust fund created by his will. The document was filed today.

Ultimate beneficiaries are the St. Louis Provident Association, Children's Hospital and the Visiting Nurse Association. Upon the death of the last personal beneficiary, the estate is to be removed from the temporary trust and will then go to the St. Louis Community Trust. The St. Louis Union Trust Co. will administer both trusteeships in conjunction with directors whose names do not appear in the will. They are to divide the money between the three charities as they deem best.
The income from the temporary trust is divided 20 per cent each to two sisters and 10 per cent each to four cousins. As beneficiaries die, the income is to be redistributed pro rata.
The St. Louis Union Trust Co. said no valuation on the estate could be announced until an inventory is completed.

REVIEWS WORK OF COMMUNITY FUND

Director Street Tells of Many Improvements in Dispensing of Charity.

Numerous direct improvements in the machinery of charity have been made possible by the Community Fund, in addition to the human help extended by member agencies, Elwood Street, director of the fund, said last night at the first annual meeting, in Central High School auditorium. He mentioned were:
Opening of a new ward for surgical cases at Barnes Hospital; extension of improvement of Methodist Orphan's Home; opening of Colored Orphan's Home; establishment of Central Purchasing Bureau for charities; opening of offices in Kirkwood, Wellington and Luxembourg by St. Louis County Welfare Association; opening of two district offices of Visiting Nurse Association; assistance to Missouri Welfare League, which works for prison betterment; opening of a district office by International Institute, and reorganization of Social Service Exchange.

The goal of the second annual fund raised by the Community Fund, that for the current year, was $149,837. When the campaign closed last night, pledges assigned closed $147,000. It was announced last night that subscriptions totaled $144,527, and that the remaining $2,310 was expected to be raised.
Pledges to the 1923 fund totaled $1,254,440, and it was announced that collections on these up to Dec. 31 amounted to $1,062,827, or about 85 per cent. In addition, about $5 per cent of the fund was for the needs of 40 charities, while this year's is for 52. Speakers pointed out that the campaign expense for the fund was about 4.8 per cent of the total, compared with an average of about 15 per cent under the old-fashioned individual system. Street translated the work done by the money raised last year into human terms, saying 2398 dependent and neglected children were aided, 28,454 needy and homeless families aided, 28,756 sick or injured persons cared for, 9760 given protection or started toward reformation, character building work done for 29,452, and "community service" extended to 22,820. Amount of service rendered in the various fields of activity, he said, varied with the intensity of service. Fifty-two persons, who had been nominated to represent the contributing public on the board of trustees of the Community Fund, were elected.

PRINCE DOESN'T KNOW WHETHER HE'S ENGAGED

Viggo of Denmark Arrives at New York on Way to Wedding of His Brother.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Prince Viggo of Denmark, cousin of King Christian, whose engagement to Miss Eleanor Green of New York was reported in Copenhagen court circles and denied last month by Miss Green's father, doesn't know whether he is engaged or not, he said today on his arrival on the Maestral.

PLEA FOR HOUSEHOLD ARTS DEPARTMENT AT WASHINGTON U.

Speaker at Meeting Suggests Dream of Every Woman Being a Professional Homemaker. Establishment and endowment of a Department of Household Arts and Sciences at Washington University was urged yesterday at a meeting in Hotel Chase of a committee that is working to that end. Paul W. Brown, editor, one of the speakers, estimated that $250,000 would be required for the new department.

"The money can be found, and the resources of professional training now available to every business man in the Mississippi Valley can be placed, also, at the disposal of the wife and mother in the home," Brown said. "Perhaps it would be a dream to expect to make every woman a professional homemaker, but we do want enough professional homemakers to rub elbows with their sisters and establish professional standards in and for the home."

A lecture on the value of vitamins and balanced diets was delivered by S. D. Wilkins, Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the committee, presided.

Viggo of Denmark Arrives at New York on Way to Wedding of His Brother.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Prince Viggo of Denmark, cousin of King Christian, whose engagement to Miss Eleanor Green of New York was reported in Copenhagen court circles and denied last month by Miss Green's father, doesn't know whether he is engaged or not, he said today on his arrival on the Maestral.

The Prince seemed extremely nervous as the big liner warped into her dock and he scanned the crowd at the pier. Miss Green was not there to greet him.

Prince Viggo said he didn't want to discuss his reported engagement to Miss Green, who is a daughter of Dr. James O. Green and a granddaughter of the late Peter Cooper. He evaded a direct reply to a question whether he had renounced his rights of succession, as would be necessary if he married a commoner.

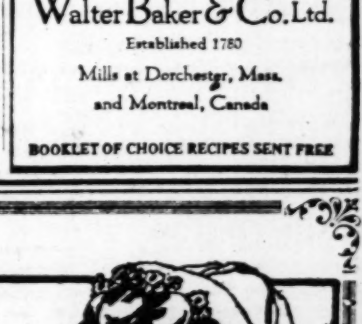

"I never thought of being a King," he said.

A reporter showed him a newspaper in which it was announced that Miss Green was planning to host a reception for him Friday. He took the paper eagerly, scanned it for a moment and said: "That will be very nice. Is that her picture?"

BENEDICT CROWELL'S DEMURRER SUSTAINED

Former Assistant War Secretary and Others Were Accused in Cantonment Cases.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia today sustained demurrers of Benedict Crowell, former Assistant Secretary of War, and six others indicted with him in cases growing out of the building of war-time cantonments.

The demurrer which was sustained were William A. Barrett, New York; Morton Tuttle, Boston; Clemens W. Lundoff, Cleveland; Clair Foster of Canada, John McGibbons, Baltimore, and James A. Mearns, Boston.

The defendants were associated with the Council of National Defense, and were charged with conspiracy to maladminister laws and regulations and to control the giving of contracts to friends, associates and clients under the "cost plus" system. All were prominent in the construction industry.

Attorney-General Daugherty initiated the proceeding as a part of the Government's prosecution of war-time construction cases.

John L. Phillips, Republican state chairman of Georgia, and nine others indicted in connection

SAYS JEWS CANNOT FAIL IN PALESTINE

Dr. Weizmann Tells St. Louis Hebrews World Watches Effort to Establish Homeland.

"The civilized Jewry of the world will stand or fall, as it succeeds in the establishment of the Jewish homeland in the Palestine. For ages Jews have been wandering here and wandering there. Now, the nations of the world have given us the chance we craved throughout the centuries. They are watching that little strip of land with microscopes, to see what we do with it. We cannot fail; we will not fail."

Thus Dr. Chaim Weizmann, world leader of Jews and head of the Zionist movement, addressed 300 St. Louis Jews at a banquet at Gateways Hotel last night. He officially opened the campaign of the St. Louis Keren Hayesod for the Palestine Foundation Fund. The national quota is $1,000,000.

100,000 Jews in Palestine. "What will the Jews do now that they have their chance?" Dr. Weizmann asked. "They have this before them—to see that a Jewish culture is built up in Palestine and to see that it becomes a link in the chain of nations. It is your duty to aid the movement, to help those that are already hard at it."

There are 700,000 people, including 100,000 Jews in Palestine, which is the size of Massachusetts, the speaker declared. In three years, 25,000 Jews have migrated there and are engaged in "creating a civilized and modern country out of a land of waste." They have "achieved more in their own strip of land than the French have in their devastated territory with all their wealth and millions of people."

To Speak at Odéon Tonight. During the World War Dr. Weizmann became famous as a chemist for the British admiralty. He is credited with several valuable discoveries in the manufacture of explosives. His home is in London, but he plans later to establish himself at the University of Palestine, now under construction at Jerusalem, to engage in research work.

Today he was honor guest at a luncheon at Hotel Jefferson, and this evening he will speak before a meeting of Jews at the Odéon. His itinerary is nation-wide.

PART THREE.

ADMITTS KILLING GIRL

His Wife Was Discharged Accidentally.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Jan. 30.—Richard Mason, 11 years old, confessed yesterday to firing the shot which killed Minnie Brooks, 15, whose body was found by a customer in a bakery at Chesterton last night.

The boy said he was playing with the shot that was kept in the back of the shop to kill rats, and that he was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the girl in the back of the head.

Blanche Bird, 7, who saw the shooting, gave authorities their first clue to the solution of the case.

COX TO WITHDRAW APPEAL AND BEGIN TERM IN PRISON

Oil Promoter Has No Money to Continue Fight—Under 5 and 8 Year Sentences.

By the Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 30.—S. E. J. Cox, spectacular oil stock promoter, will go to Leavenworth Federal prison in a few days to begin his sentences for fraud.

"I can do nothing else," he said, when asked if he would withdraw his appeal at Fort Worth and begin serving his sentence. "I have no money with which to carry on the fight."

His decision came after he had been sentenced yesterday to five years in prison by Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson, and fined $15,000 for his part in the Blue Bird Oil Corporation case. The sentence is to run concurrently with the one of eight years assessed against him in Fort Worth in the Dr. Frederick A. Cook case.

E. O. Glenn, convicted with Cox, was given his choice of paying a fine of $5000, or $3000 and 30 days in jail.

Cox said that in both instances in which he was convicted, it was for a comparatively small service for someone else and not because of the operations of his own companies.

Butler Perryman, head of the Blue Bird Oil Corporation, today was sentenced on his plea of guilty, to a charge of using the mails to defraud, to pay a $15,000 fine and serve 30 days in jail. The fine is indeterminate, and if his personal assets are more or less than $15,000, he will be fined the amount of those assets.

TWO OIL MEN PLEAD GUILTY

Head of O'Malley Co. and Agent Used Mails to Defraud.

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 30.—John J. O'Malley, president and sole trustee of the O'Malley Oil Co., capitalized at $3,000,000, and T. D. McCarthy, an agent of the company, pleaded guilty in Federal Court here yesterday to charges of fraudulent use of the mails. Sentence was deferred.

The indictments allege that many subscribers to stock in the company had been victimized, including a number of Catholic priests in Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Indiana and Pennsylvania. The Government alleged that O'Malley promised great wealth to investors and the indictment stated that the O'Malley company did not even own the land it claimed. Charges in the same case against Hermann Rieger, "one" Kaplan, and "one" Carter, were dismissed.

SUSPECT IN ITALIAN MURDER CASE FREED

Joe Woods Denied Knowledge of Killing of Joe Palazzolo, Found in County.

Joe Woods, known to have been an acquaintance of Sam Palazzolo, who was murdered last Sunday, today was released by Sheriff Willmann, for whom he had been held for questioning. The Sheriff announced he was confident Woods was not implicated. He further indicated that he had gathered "nearly conclusive evidence" as to the crime.

St. Louis detectives of the homicide squad are still puzzled. Palazzolo's body was found, with eight bullet wounds, in a ditch near Spanish Lake, St. Louis County.

The detectives point out that in the Palazzolo case, as in the two other recent Italian murders, there were no eyewitnesses and that even though the department has been supplied with information that seems to explain the killing of Palazzolo, circumstantial evidence only, unless a confession is obtained, will have to be relied upon to establish the guilt of the slayers.

How Arrest Came About.
Woods' arrest was the result of information given by Palazzolo's 16-year-old widow, a bride of a month. She said her husband left their home, 1512 North Tenth street, at 12:30 p. m., Sunday, in response to a telephone message and that, in departing, he remarked: "Joe Woods wants to see me. I wonder what he wants."

Woods, who is 30 years old and lives at 1463 Chambers street, told the police he was an organizer for the Teamsters' Union. He is under indictment for an $8000 diamond robbery at the jewelry store of Theodore Ebeling, 2015 East Grand avenue, on Jan. 21. Two Italians also are under indictment in connection with the robbery. The police have not recovered the stolen diamonds and have not been able to get any line on the identity of a third Italian who is said to have figured in the robbery.

Denies Knowledge of Murder.
"I don't know a thing about the Palazzolo murder," said Woods, in response to questions by detectives. "I've got an alibi. I was at a political meeting in North St. Louis all last Sunday afternoon."

Palazzolo, a week before his death, had complained to the police of the Carr Street District that a member of a teamsters' local had been after him to join the union and had threatened him. Palazzolo was a nonunion trucker. Woods told the police he knew nothing about the effort to get Palazzolo to join the union.

Military Funeral for Valveri.
Funeral services for Alexandro Valveri, whose assassination in a lot at 1027 North Seventh street the night of Jan. 19 was the first of the three mysterious Italian murders, within eight days, which the police have been trying to solve, will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday under the auspices of Durfee Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Burial will be in the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks.

Valveri served overseas in the world war with Battery E, Nineteenth Field Artillery, Fifth Division. The funeral will be held from an undertaker's chapel at Sixth and Biddle streets.

The second murder victim was Paulo Marnago, who was mortally shot at 6 a. m. last Tuesday, less than a block from where Valveri was murdered, and died later at City Hospital. Marnago said he was shot by two men who had followed him from a rooming house. He asserted he had never seen them before.

FRANK J. GOULD SUED IN FRANCE BY HIS FORMER WIFE

Edith Kelly Gould Alleges Under Law There She Is Entitled to Half of His Property.

By the Associated Press.
VERSAILLES, Jan. 20.—Edith Kelly Gould, former wife of Frank J. Gould, has asked the courts to grant her the reversion to half of Gould's property in France, or about $50,000,000 francs.

She contends that inasmuch as she and her former husband had a domicile in France and that as no special deed of settlement was executed at the time of the marriage specifying that each retained control of their individual estates, the French law of the community of property between husband and wife should apply. On the dissolution of the marriage, the plaintiff avers, she was entitled to one-half.

On the contrary, Gould maintains that inasmuch as both were American citizens when married in England, the American law alone is applicable.

Little Theater for Missouri.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 30.—A Little Theater for the University of Missouri is being put in shape in Lathrop Hall. Special lighting has been installed, a new stage has been constructed, and new curtains have been ordered. It is hoped by Prof. G. H. Shoits, professor of dramatic interpretation, to have the Little Theater completed shortly after the start of the second semester. The Dramatics Arts Club, made up of members of the university faculty and townspeople, the Missouri Workshop, a student dramatic organization, and classes of Prof. Shoits will use the Little Theater.

My Experience is that
SYRUP PEPsin

This Will Make Digestion Easy

WHAT the dyspeptic needs is not soda and charcoal and breath perfumes but a medicine that will help his bowels to move regularly, for dyspepsia and constipation are allied. If you will take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin systematically as the directions on the package call for you will soon digest your food properly and pass it out normally, and heartburn, belching, dizziness, nervousness and bloating will vanish. In time you can dispense with all medicines as Syrup Pepsin will have exercised the intestinal and stomach muscles so they act for themselves. Mr. Lewis F. Schultz of Reasnor, Ia., Mrs. Victor Knodler of 3625 Bank St., Louisville, Ky., and hosts of others will verify this.

Formula Plainly Stated

Have no hesitancy giving Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to anyone young or old. It is a mild, gentle laxative free from narcotics. It will not cramp or gripe. The formula is on the package, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and simple aromatics. A bottle can be had at any drug store and averages less than a cent a dose. Economical for families and fully guaranteed. You will find it a great improvement in taste and action over castor oil, or "candy cathartics" made from coal-tar that cause skin diseases, calomel that loosens the teeth, salts in water or powder that concentrate the blood and dry the skin.

World Acclaims Success

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the prescription of a well-known physician of that name who practiced successfully for 47 years. It has been on the market thirty years and is today the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Thousands of families have it in their medicine chest ready when any member shows signs of dyspepsia, constipation, torpid liver, sour stomach,

MISSOURI G. O. P. LEADERS MEET BUTLER IN CHICAGO

Hyde, Gary and Clements Confer With General Director of Coolidge's Campaign.

COMMITTEE PLACE
PROBABLY DISCUSSED

Plan Believed to Be to Get That Post for Clements, and Have Hyde Man Run Campaign in Missouri.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 20.—
Gov. Hyde, accompanied by Chairman Gary of the State Highway Commission and Dr. E. B. Clements, chairman of the Republican State Committee, yesterday had a conference in Chicago with Republican National Committeeman Butler of Massachusetts, director of the campaign of President Coolidge for the Republican nomination for the presidency. The Governor's movements Monday and yesterday were closely guarded, the impression being given to visitors to his office that he was keeping within doors at the Executive Mansion because of his recent illness.

It is understood, however, on excellent authority, that the Chicago pilgrimage was conducted by the Governor in a second effort to have a Hyde factionalist named as Missouri manager of the Coolidge campaign, but it has a broader significance in that the presence of Clements and Gary are regarded as portending probable support of the State administration for Clements
as Missouri member of the Republican National Committee, and for Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd of St.
Louis for the nomination for the governorship.

Gary's presence especially is very significant. Gary has two interests, business and good roads. For practical politics he has an extreme aversion. Through business connections and personal friendships
he was induced in December to accept appointment to a small committee, nation-wide in its make-up, to act as a sort of Board of Strategy on questions of policy for the Coolidge campaign, with explicit understanding that it was not to be concerned with any phase of actual campaigning.

Hyde and Good Roads Effort.
To top this off, in December Gov.
Hyde climbed down out of a tree
into which he had led the State Highway Commission on the question of a special session of the Legislature to enact road legislation.
In this matter the Governor left the commissioners, especially Gary, in a very embarrassing position. So it is hardly likely that Gary would bestir himself to oblige the Governor in a personal matter. Gary, however, is for Lloyd, "hook, line and sinker," because he regards Lloyd as a sincere friend of good-road construction.

Time was when Lloyd and Hyde were bosom friends. That was before Lloyd was providing the legislative backing for Hyde's program during the 1921 sessions of the General Assembly. Afterward the Governor's affection for the St. Louisan cooled, and about six months ago he criticized Lloyd in the newspapers for an official act, while Lloyd was serving as Governor during absence of Hyde from the State.

This was regarded as the final phase of an effort by the Governor to "unload" Lloyd, who all along had been regarded as a candidate to succeed Hyde, and who was looked upon as the logical administration candidate.

Hyde Cools Toward Clements
Clements, too, has had his ups and downs with the administration.
Elected chairman of the State Committee by Hyde votes, he has fettered and carried to serve its policies for more than two years and was led to believe that he would have its support in realizing his ambition to be national committeeman from Missouri.

Then the "political cabinet," which occasionally meets in the Governor's office, got in its work.
This gathering, composed largely of appointees of the Governor, furnished him with much advice, and Lloyd and Clements have reason to believe that some of it has been directed against them. Clements especially being a target for frequent outbursts. In fact, it was suggested to Hyde that he should take the national committee membership himself, or at least he ought not to support Clements. And so, as told in the Post-Dispatch two months ago, the ardor of the administration toward Clements cooled.

pled, to resign and let Hyde have the place.
And why would Gary break his resolutions about staying out of factional politics, unless it were to do something for his friend Lloyd?
The Hyde-Lloyd conference Monday led color to this theory.

Women Voters in Factional Row.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 20.—
National and state officers of the League of Women Voters have been called to Kansas City to conduct an election Tuesday in the Jackson County league, as the result of factional differences which yesterday prevented an election. Mrs. H. H.
Muehall, St. Louis, president of the Missouri League, has been invited to attend the meeting next week to conduct the election.

The Best Cough Syrup
Is Home-Made

Here's an Easy Way to Save $2, and Yet Have the Best Cough Remedy You Ever Tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less.
It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, beats the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickles, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SEALSKIN SALE IN NEW YORK ADVOCATED

Hoover's Committee Makes Report—Alternate Auctions in St. Louis Urged

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A recommendation that the next sale of Government sealskins be held in New York, instead of St. Louis, is contained in a preliminary report to Secretary Hoover by a committee which he named to advise him on means for the disposition of skins now on hand. The Department of Commerce, it was announced, has reached no decision in the matter.
The report was sent to Hoover from Chicago by the chairman of the committee, Elmer T. Stevens.

The preliminary recommendations, it is stated, are made because of the "exigencies of the situation."
They are to be followed by a detailed report on the marketing of sealskins. The committee recommends:

"That the next sale be held in New York as soon as possible, preferably about the end of February.
This should be done without committing the Government to any future policy as to the location of the sale. The committee inclines to the belief that at least every alternate sale should be held in St. Louis.

"That the 20,000 skins now dressed, dyed and ready for the market should be offered for sale without reserve to the highest bidder. The committee believes that such a sale will stimulate the demand for sealskins and will ultimately work out greatly to the advantage of the trade.

Vespers Answer
New York Soccer
Club's ChallengeHarry McCarthy Suggests
Series of Games to Settle Question of Superiority.Ben Millers Threaten To Withdraw Unless Referee Is Changed

A meeting of St. Louis Soccer League officials tonight, Manager Ratican of the Ben Millers will notify President Barker that the Ben Miller players have declared to their manager that they will refuse to go on the field if Phil J. Kavanaugh is acting as referee.

This attitude is based on what the players believe to be evidence of inefficiency on the part of the referee in last Sunday's game and in previous contests.

By Dent McKimming.

The challenge of the New York Football Club, broadcast by Manager Hugh Magee, to play the Vesper-Suick soccer team of St. Louis for a $5000 side bet will not go unheeded. Harry McCarthy, manager of the Vespers, yesterday outlined a plan whereby a series of five games may be played, two in St. Louis, two in New York and the fifth, if necessary, in the city which wins the toss of a coin.

Magee's suggestion was that his team should meet the Vespers in the event that the Vespers win the national challenge cup.

"Why wait that long?" asked McCarthy yesterday. "We will play him right now."

Suggests Series of Games.

"No single game can suffice, though. I would insist on two out of three, or, preferably, three out of five games. I would like to play a Saturday and Sunday here, the following Saturday and Sunday in New York.

"We have no club funds from which we may draw the $5000 for a side bet, but I have a plan whereby the supporters of soccer in St. Louis may raise the money.

"The games should be played strictly under the United States Football Association code. Such a series of games would undoubtedly interrupt our local league schedule, but I believe the St. Louis footers would relish such a test of strength.

"The western semifinal cup game is scheduled to be played here a week from next Saturday. We would be prepared to play the New York club immediately after that cup contest."

New York Has a Strong Team.

Although New York has been eliminated from the cup competition in the East, Magee's club is considered one of the best in the United States and the Fall River team.

The Vespers will oppose the survivors of the Goodyear-Mackenzie game (which is now under protest in the hands of the cup committee) in their next cup game. The Bricklayers, of Chicago, will meet the Detroit Celtic team, in the other western semifinal. The winners will clash in the western final about one month hence. It is between the time of the western semifinal and the western final that McCarthy would play the New Yorkers.

Johnstone Surpassed.

NORTON made a comment on the play of W. M. Johnstone, No. 2 ranking player and former national champion, which shows how keenly he has watched the work of the high-ranking individuals of the world. When it was suggested that Johnstone had the greatest forward drive in the world, Norton immediately took exception:

"I disagree; Johnstone has a fine high-forward drive, but he work off the ground is not so good.

"The manner in which he holds the racket is partly responsible for this. To my mind the greatest forward drive in the world is that of Anderson of Austria, who is a wonder on any return to his forward, high or low. Anderson has little else that is first-class, but his forward and as a result he has developed his use of this marvelous drive."

"FANATICS" ISLAND
PRETTY WELL SHOT UP.Machine Gun Fire Drives
Tribesmen Inland, Manila
Is Advised.

By the Associated Press.
MANILA, Jan. 30.—The situation arising from clashes between the Philippine constabulary and the Colorums on Bucos Island, Surigao Province, where a number of both groups have been killed, is favorable, according to a wireless report received from Lieutenant-Colonel Clarence H. Bowers, commanding the constabulary in that section.

Col. Bowers reported that the fanatics, as the report calls them, apparently were suppressed by the machine gun fire directed against points on the island by the gunboat Sacramento, as a score of them had surrendered within the last two days.

He reported that the fanatics of the island were beginning to feel the pinch of a shortage in food supplies, the constabulary having virtually blockaded the island for several weeks past, preventing all communication between it and other sections, and said he expected all of them to surrender shortly.

Col. Bowers estimated that there were approximately 1000 of the fanatics scattered throughout various parts of Surigao Province. He will not begin the task of rounding up their leaders until additional supplies of ammunition reach him.

Although armed only with bolos and clubs, the fanatics are fearless in fighting the well-equipped constabulary soldiers, the advances state. They are said to believe that by the use of certain ointments which they place on their bodies they are proof against the bullets of their foes.

ARTISTS' CONCERT AT KSD
WINS MUCH APPROVAL

Temple Quartet, With Three Speakers, Present Varied and Pleasing Program.

The Temple Male Quartet, members of which are among the best known and most popular St. Louis singers, gave the program at Station KSD last night. This concert was received with keen pleasure by thousands of listeners. Many who called up from nearby points and several from long distance points after the concert was concluded, declared it to be one of the best programs ever sent out from this station. Members of the quartet sang individual groups, and Ravold varied his program with a little group of Italian dialect stories, while Rohan added much interest to the program by rendering a flute solo. The singers' artistic presentation of all their numbers was given added beauty by the accompaniment played by Miss Lucille M. Cook. Miss Cook also played three well chosen piano numbers.

The program was interspersed with three speeches. One given by L. A. Watt, was the closing address in the series that the Alpha Chi Sigma Chapter Fraternity of St. Louis has been presenting to KSD listeners this winter. This was on the subject of modern disinfectants, which told of the meaning and use of disinfectants and the way in which they are valuable to the human race.

The other addresses were by Charles Regil of the St. Louis Fire Department, and by N. Y. Park, a native Korean. The latter astonished his audience by beginning his talk in Chinese, it being a salutation, which he later translated, and then told what he called Oriental jokes. His subject was "Oriental Humor," and he showed how some of the oldest of our modern jokes originated in the Orient.

Tonight Station KSD will have a studio program, beginning at 9 o'clock, which will follow the program of Albergh's Concert Ensemble at Hotel Statler.

What of the Loved Ones You Leave Behind?

Will their lives be a hardship and living a burden to them?

WOODROW WILSON said: "We are in this life to provide not for ourselves but for others, and that is the basis of economy. If a man does not provide for his children and those dependent upon him, and if he has not that vision of conditions to come, which we sum up in the whole idea of thrift and saving, then he has not opened his eyes to any adequate conception of human life."

GREEK GOVERNMENT ACCEPTABLE TO U. S.

Hughes Receives Charge and Designates Ad Interim
Envoy at Athens.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Greece have been resumed after a lapse since 1929, when Constantine reascended the throne vacated by the death of Alexander and established a regime regarded by the American Government as being based upon military power without confirmation by elections.

Recent elections in Greece have resulted in the establishment of a Government, whose credentials are acceptable to the United States, however, and Secretary Hughes yesterday received M. Tsamados as the Greek charge d'affaires, at the same time instructing Ray Atherton, who has been unofficially in charge of American interests at Athens, to act as charge d'affaires ad interim to the new Government there.

The new regime already has received recognition from a number of Powers, and the action of the United States follows by only two weeks a similar step on the part of Great Britain.

ACQUITTED IN MURDER CASE

Mrs. Mary Gable, East St. Louis, Plead Self-Defense.

A jury in Belleville Circuit Court yesterday acquitted Mrs. Mary Gable of East St. Louis, charged with the shooting in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Flora Hawthorne Mueller, 19, the Gable home at Belleville, May 15, 1919. Mrs. Gable was excused by a Coroner's jury and later indicted but was not arrested until last March. She pleaded self-defense.

HAWES DECLARES FOR REED FOR PRESIDENCY

Congressman Says Senator Can Carry Missouri—"Ku Klux Klan Great Issue."

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
29-23 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Representative Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis yesterday gave out the following statement regarding the candidacy of Senator Reed for the presidency:

"From press reports there is a straight contest for an instructed delegation for either Senator James A. Reed of Missouri or Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo of California.

"Senator Reed has lived in Missouri since early manhood, served with distinction for two terms as Mayor of Kansas City, and is now entering upon his third term in the United States Senate.

"For 25 years he has canvassed the State for the Democratic party. In the last election he carried Missouri by a majority of over 40,000.

Says Reed Can Carry State.

"If nominated for President he will carry the State in the presidential election.

"Mr. William G. McAdoo is comparatively unknown in our State and has not been favorably commended by our great newspapers. He has never been elected to public office and his ability to carry Missouri in a general election is, to say the least, doubtful.

"One great element of Senator Reed's strength is his knowledge of the fundamentals of the Democratic party, he is an advocate of the basic of government taught by Jefferson.

"I have not at all times been in agreement with Senator Reed or with the policies of Mr. McAdoo, but these disagreements are of secondary importance when considered with a growing state and national issue of overshadowing and dominating gravity.

Ku Klux Klan the Issue.

"This is the issue of state and national political control by the Ku Klux Klan.

"No true follower of Jefferson, no real Democrat who understands the traditions of his party or respects its history, will be found supporting a candidate or a party having any association with the so-called invisible empire.

"This masked organization will seek control of the nominations of both parties. Should be denounced by both.

"In my opinion no man can be elected to public office of state or national importance who does not openly repudiate the Klan.

"It violates all American traditions, but specifically the first amendment to the Constitution guaranteeing religious liberty and freedom of conscience.

"It openly violates the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments of our Constitution which prohibit discrimination in primary conventions.

Loyalty Declared Necessary.

"Therefore it is necessary that Democrats should nominate a man whose loyalty to the old and best traditions of our party cannot be questioned.

"The American Legion, leaders of the Masonic fraternity, the Protestant church leaders, and every great newspaper in America, have assailed the Klan. It was denounced by the last Democratic convention in Missouri and by our present Democratic State Committee. Why should any Democratic candidate hesitate in denunciation or even question the intent of our national Democratic convention to repudiate it?

"Senator James A. Reed has been outspoken in his denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan. That splendid statesman, Oscar W. Underwood, candidate from Alabama, has done so. So have Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, Gov. Ralston of Indiana, Gov. Smith of New York, Gov. Edwards of New Jersey, and the noted fundamentalist, former Congressman John W. Davis of West Virginia, last president of the American Bar Association.

"There remains but one candidate now seeking the Democratic nomination whose position has not been plainly defined, and that candidate is Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo.

K. K. K. Openly for McAdoo.

"The Ku Klux organizations in Texas, Oklahoma and other states are openly supporting him. He cannot have received this support for months without knowledge.

"Personally, I place the question of the dominance of the Ku Klux Klan in the Democratic party above all other issues, because no party could or should live which is directed or controlled, even in part, by a secret organization built upon intolerance and bigotry and which has found its greatest success in flaunting conspicuous provisions of our Constitution.

"We know that Senator Reed will, with his usual force and brilliancy, support every line in our bill of rights which is now under assault, for he has honesty of purpose and the courage of his convictions."

"Dead" Soldier Is Alive.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 28.—Arthur Frazier, winner, S. D. Indian, who was reported killed in action in France, was identified yesterday by two former soldier companions at the Veterans' Bureau here as the Arthur Frazier with whom they served at Camp

Cody, N. M., in 1917 and 1918. Frazier, who is suffering from aphasia as a result of shell shock, was found in Enid, Ok., last fall.

after he had been reported killed in France and a body identified as his sent to his home and buried. He was taken to his home at Winter, where he was identified as relatives, including his mother. The Government still maintains was "dead."

The Fir and the Palm

—A Continued Story—
By PRINCESS BIBESCO

SYNOPSIS.

Helen, with her husband, Cyril (Lord Hensham), arrives at the Hensham country home, one of England's famous country houses. Cyril is passionately in love with his wife, but she is unresponsive to it. When he married her he had wanted her to throw herself into his arms and instead she had walked up his marble staircase. Cyril was over forty when he married. He found Helen living with her father who was a gambler, in a pension in Italy.

Helen has called on her new neighbors, the Baldwins, for the first time. She has presided at a charity bazaar given on the Baldwins' estate. Their nephew, Toby, lives in a small house on the estate.

Cyril's mother comes to Helen's court for a visit. Helen, at Cyril's suggestion, invites Toby to dinner to meet her, and Helen finds herself intensely interested in him.

Helen goes to his cottage where she has dinner alone with him. Christopher Tyndley, a lifelong friend of Cyril's, is one of the guests. He is in love with Helen. Toby comes over for the dance which Helen gives the first night of the house party. He kisses Helen before he leaves.

Later Helen goes up to London for the season. Cyril joins Christopher in Scotland for a week's shooting. Helen goes back to the country. She and Toby spend a delightful week riding, walking and dining together. When Cyril returns to Helen's court, Toby goes up to London. He meets Helen's friend, Selina, there. Toby decides to go to Tibet. Helen at last discovers Cyril's great love for her.

INSTALLMENT XXXVIII.

HELEN APPEALS TO HER PRIDE.

HOW does one get hold of one's pride and force it into action, Helen wondered. She realized at last why people were touchy. It was, of course, in order to put a barrier of amour propre between you and your heart.

Being offended, after all, cannot hurt as much as being hurt. Her own position was quite simple. She had been deeply humiliated, therefore, she must be feeling angry, bitter, and indignant. Actually she found herself thinking, "Why didn't I let him walk home with me? O, if I could only see him again—just once. If I could hear his voice."

It was for this reason that she was making appeals to her pride to come to her rescue. But it insisted on behaving in a subtle analytical way which brought her no comfort at all. It is impossible to be angry to order—to your own order.

She thought over the last three months, looking at them entirely from Toby's point of view. It was here that the subtle behavior of her pride, after all, did her a service. It realized how far more deeply it was implicated in a defense of Toby than in an attack on him. Her self-respect could find no relief in anger, but only in the employment of every imaginative resource she possessed for the vindication of her lover. Unless she was to feel bruised and crushed and dishonored she must prove to herself that all the wrongs had been on her side. If her love was to have any meaning left to it, Toby must be justified.

And so, searching passionately for favorable data, doctoring her memory, arraying her arguments with the unconscious partisanship of desperation, she proved to herself that she had been blind and exacting, un-understanding, tyrannical, and insensitive. Toby's weakness in the beginning became the exquisite sensibility of a Don Quixote (he hadn't wanted to hurt her), his ruthlessness at the end was the difficult courage of a hero (he had been determined to spare her ultimate unhappiness).

Thus, with the passion of all her faiths, her faith in life, her faith in human nature, her faith in love, was she able to reach the utter point of self-abasement necessary to secure the acquittal of her love. And so she could hold her head high and say, "I, only I, was to blame."

There were, of course, unbearable moments. Bits of the garden would insist on keeping open the wounds of her memory—so did bits of the house. The sofa in her boudoir, the hung vase, the little Spanish carpet, seemed determined to abdicate the roles of objective joys in order to become subjective tortures. She ought never to have let Toby come inside Helen's court. "Prisons can't really be prisons," she reflected; "cells after all are bare—empty of associations."

She wired for Selina. She didn't want to be alone with Cyril. Loving too much may be a crime against the other persons, but loving too little is a crime against yourself—and both are punishments as soon as you realize it is a crime!

Selina arrived, cool and charming. She wanted, she said, to see the Baldwins. Toby had told her about them. Helen had not foreseen the Baldwins. She wished she hadn't invited Selina. But in the country there are no excuses. They drove out together in a victoria.

"Where is Toby's cottage?" Selina asked.

"In the middle of the wood."

"Like a Hans Anderson?"

"Not very like a Hans Anderson. Altogether Victorian. Arnold Bennett could describe it."

Helen blushed at her own dishonesty. Could Shakespeare describe it? Or Schubert?

"Toby didn't know, I suppose."

"Know what?"

"Know what his cottage was like."

"He hadn't the faintest idea."

Selina wondered why Helen should be so vehement. It was, she supposed, her hatred of ugliness.

"He isn't there now," Helen added.

"Isn't he? But I must see it."

"Ned Baldwin will show it to you."

"Is there a picture of the Prince Consort?"

"It has been moved," Helen spoke sharply.

"Congratulations me on my brilliant guess. I saw visions of Prince Albert deer strolling in a top hat. But, then, I suppose that Toby saw no meaning in it at all—one way or the other. He isn't civilized enough."

"No."

Why do other people rob you with their understanding, stealing your discoveries and your guesses, invading the special domains of your insight?

Overton had not changed. The pink begonias were still there and the shiny high church woodwork. Mrs. Baldwin explained to Selina that all men were boys and she added, "Boys will be boys." Why, Mr. Baldwin himself—but Miss Cathcart wasn't married—not that she, Mrs. Baldwin, wasn't broad-minded; she felt that every one ought to see a bit of life. Ned was sowing his wild oats. "Poetry," she whispered, filling the word with night club implications.

Helen asked Mr. Baldwin if he liked Overton. Mr. Baldwin said that Mrs. Baldwin liked it very much indeed. She found the neighborhood select. The word clearly meant so little to him that he was able to endow it with the irrelevance it deserved.

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON By HELEN ROWLAND

A LAS, my daughter, how inscrutable is the heart of a woman! For, lo, she cryeth, "I would be FREE!" Yet, she is never content until she findeth herself TIED for life!

She saith, "I am no longer a child!" Yet, she still looketh upon life as a Christmas tree, wherefrom she shall snatch a fresh and beautiful surprise each day.

She saith, "I can reason!" But she still persisteth in asking a man WHY he loveth her.

She mocketh at man's boast of his "superiority." Yet, she still holdeth that it requireth a hair dresser, a beauty specialist, a milliner, a masseuse and 20 modistes to make a woman sufficiently attractive to be pleasing in his eyes.

She saith, "I am no longer the slave of man!" Yet, all her days are spent in the bowed attitude of a servitor, picking up his THINGS.

She saith, "I am interested in the BIG things of life!" But, she is still lost without her powder puff and her lipstick.

She saith, "Marriage is neither a graft nor a romance, but the highest companionship!" Yet, when she weddeth she still hopeth to find a combination of Prince Charming and Santa Claus.

She saith, "Alas, men are SO primitive!" But she still yearneth to be wooed by a caveman, taken by storm and "kissed against her will."

She saith, "No longer am I filled with foolish sentimentalism!" But she still prefereth a man who holdeth that the stars were made to KISS under to him that discusseth the canals of Mars.

She saith, "No longer am I filled with vanity!" Yet she can still muse for 24 hours upon the flattering look in a man's eyes.

She demandeth the right to wear breeches because they are "feminine."

But she still arrayeth her FEET as though they were made for adorning rather than to walk upon.

She saith, "I would be treated as a HUMAN BEING!" But when she weepeth upon a man's shoulder, he saith in his heart:

"Praise be unto Heaven, she is just a WOMAN!"

:: A BUTTER OF HIGH VALUE :: By HANNAH WING

PEANUT butter is one of the most popular "flappers" among the foods of this generation. Its popularity depends on a desire to please. It entered the select society of well-established food preferences as a spread for sandwiches and found a ready welcome as a bridge sandwich, a school or office lunch box sandwich or one of the most humble dinner pail varieties.

This was a versatile role to fill and called for a food daintily palatable, tasty, combined with qualities of filling guaranteed to satisfy. It is one of the best vegetable proteins, rich in fat, highly nutritious, digestible and possessed of such a delightful nutty flavor that the first taste calls for another.

In using it, good cooks have found that it handles more easily and is less likely to give a pasty impression if it is slightly thinned with cream or salad dressing before it is spread. For an at-home-alone occasion or for a picnic or outing where food preferences are harmonious, one of the most popular sandwiches is made from lettuce, peanut butter thinned with

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST By ALINE MICHAELIS

THE KILL-JOY.

A H, who is this whose doleful sigh disturbs each cherished plan? The killjoy who is ever night, who camps with every clan! There never was a picnic yet but what one tagged along to throw a blanket, sopping wet, upon all mirth and song. There never was an enterprise of sterling worth at stake, but what some chap with dismal eyes proclaimed that same "a fake." The kill-joy loves to sit and mope before his neighbor's door; he always laughs at every hope and sneers at every score. We can not see the reason why we have to hear his chat, so class him with the gnat and fly and let it go at that. We say: "We contemplate a trip to gay Par-ee and Rome" the kill-joy answers: "Take my tin, you're better off at home." We show our motor-car with pride, and as we gladly boast the kill-joy says: "I wouldn't ride in that decrepit boat." With every topic it's the same, though life be filled with bloom, our hero knows one single aim, and that's to scatter gloom. But still, despite his energy, his keen, unflinching zeal, come no results that one can see from his tin-happy spiel. For, lo! for countless years on years the kill-joy's been on hand to do his stunt with sobs and tears in every clime and land. He's never failed to voice his cry each day from sun to sun; his eloquence: "It's no use to try" and "No, it can't be done!" He's been in everybody's track through all the ages gone; the kill-joy, busy pulling back, while Earth keeps forging on!

the ordinary recipe for French dressing. Because of its protein it is a favorite among the so-called meat substitutes dishes where for one reason or another it is desirable to use more vegetable protein in the diet. Numerous hashes, nut loaves and scallops have been devised in which this food has a place.

A simple hot sandwich may be made by spreading hot toast with peanut butter thinned with mayonnaise, adding a thin slice of bacon and putting the sandwich in a hot oven to crisp.

Children's Bedtime Story By Thornton W. Burgess

Trader Has a Busy Night.

TRADER THE WOOD RAT was finding the great man-bird the most interesting thing he had ever visited. The men who worked on it by day were repairing it. They had taken off the broken wing, and they had taken apart some other parts of the great machine. One night Trader discovered in and around the great man-bird many queer, hard things, which were wholly new to him. He knew they were hard and not good to eat because he tried them with his teeth. Some were bright and shiny, and some were not. But all were very interesting. Trader's big, dark eyes sparkled as he looked at them. He would take them home to play with.

Now, these things were nuts and washers and screws and other small parts to be used in repairing that airplane. Because that was such a lonely spot and there was no one likely to meddle with things, all the small parts had been left lying about when the men stopped work at the end of the day. Some were in small boxes which had been left open. Some were in the airplane.

Trader first picked out the shiniest pieces. These were the new parts that had been brought. One by one he carried them over to his home. All night long he worked. He emptied one small box of screws. They were bright, shiny screws, and they delighted Trader's heart. But Trader is not a thief like Robber the Brown Rat. He emptied that little box of screws, but in their place he put a lot of pebbles. He was trading. He was trading pebbles for screws.

Back and forth, back and forth between his home and the great man-bird Trader traveled all night long. He not only emptied that little box of screws, but he emptied another small box of nuts and washers. This box he also filled with pebbles. It was a busy night for Trader. It was a very busy night.

Trader remained at home. You know he doesn't like to be abroad in daylight. In his home he gloated over his new treasures. He kept handling them and playing with them. When at last he curled up to sleep he dreamed of these treasures and of other treasures yet to be obtained.

What he didn't dream of was the trouble he had caused. At first those screws were not missed. Then one of the men at work on the great man-bird needed some of those screws and went to get them. Such a funny look as passed over his face when he picked up that little box.

"What kind of a joke is this?" he demanded.

The aviator, the friend of Darryl and Nanny Meadow Mouse, who was at work on another part of the airplane, looked up. "I don't know any joke," said he.

"Then why is this box filled with pebbles instead of screws?" demanded the other man.

Just then another of the workmen wanted a nut, and in his turn he found nothing but pebbles. He couldn't go on with his part of the work without a nut, and no nut was to be found.

Every one stopped working and began to hunt for those screws and nuts, and of course they hunted in vain. What had become of them was a mystery. They had been there the day before, and now they were gone.

Oscar Underwood is in favor of one presidential term. So are several others, and as many more as may be deemed expedient.

Now that the lid has been kicked off, you can rely upon the politicians to keep the pot a boiling.

HAVE AT 'EM!

William A. Brady has opened war on the ticket scalpers. It will be war to the knife, we take it.

There will be no heavyweight championship fight in New York during the week of the National Democratic Convention. With Jim Reed in the ring they'll have all the fight they can handle.

And it won't be any soft glove affair either.

"Scofflaw" is the label that has been coined for a violator of the 18th upheaval. It is to guffaw.

At any rate the winner of the Bok prize will get $50,000 regardless of public approval or disapproval of the plan. The Senate can't take that away from him or her, as the case may be.

Half a loaf is better than no bread even if it is only a $100,000 loaf of rye with no Caraway seeds in it.

Incidentally isn't the Senate indulging in a little propaganda to keep the winner from getting the other half of the prize?

THE BEST SORT OF INTERVIEW.

BOB DAVIS once went to interview, for the Examiner, the late Collis P. Huntington, in San Francisco, his object being to learn the attitude of Collis with relation to certain Pacific Coast railroad matters.

Davis had carefully typewritten four important questions which he placed before Mr. Huntington one at a time. Huntington read them, adjusted his black skull cap, leaned back in his easy chair in the Southern Pacific building at Fourth and Townsend streets and plunged into a long talk. At the end of half an hour of steady conversation Davis had not made a single note.

"Why aren't you writing down anything?" queried Uncle Collis, with child-like innocence.

"Because," said Davis, "you haven't yet said anything worth printing."

"Well," replied Mr. Huntington, playing a cymbal solo with the tips of his fingers, "that, my friend, was the intention."

VOL. 76. NO. 145.

BUILDERS TESTIFY
MILLWORK PRICES

"If One Raised, They All Raised," One Asserts, Hearing in Antitrust Proceeding.

DEFENDANT MILLMEN
ATTEND IN FORCE

Suggestion Made That The Appeared for "Moral Effect" Upon Witnesses in the Case.

Four witnesses, St. Louis building contractors, were heard today in the adjourned session of the hearing on the Attorney-General antitrust proceeding against the Louis Millmen's Association, who members are charged with combining to fix prices in the restraint trade. Another adjournment, Feb.
11, followed the morning session, in the ballroom of the Statler.

It was planned to hold the hearing in a smaller room, but it was removed to the ballroom after many of the 16 defendant millmen and their lawyers, had arrived to crowd the smaller room underneath. The millmen were not required to be present, though it was their privilege, and it was suggested before the witnesses were heard that the presence of the millmen, from whom the witnesses buy supplies regularly, might have a "moral effect." The millmen and lawyers in a circle facing the witnesses.

Testimony Given.
While the presence of the mill-men may have had some effect on the witnesses, the testimony mostly showed uniformity in prices for building materials,
which is what the Attorney-General Barratt is trying to establish.
A witness said that the prices were uniform after the establishment of a listing bureau, but he added that they were also uniform before the bureau was established.
On further questioning, he admitted that sometimes, before the bureau was established, low prices were made, but he said he admitted these low bids to the interference of the millmen's agents.
After the listing bureau was formed, he said, pricing was by experts, which tended to make the prices uniform.

H. C. Koenig, a brick manufacturer, testified that in 1920, he planned to build 24 bungalows
he asked for bids on the mill work.
The bids of the St. Louis deranged from $1400 to $1600
bungalow, he said, and appeared to be based on a uniformity prices. A Maplewood planing bid $100 on the same work.

Joseph J. Luechtfeld of the East Park Lumber and Supply testified his firm bought mill from St. Louis concerns, and the prices charged by the various millwork men appeared to be ways pretty well alike. Apparently, the millmen used a basic list, he said, adding that his bought most of its millwork
the Huttig Lumber and Lumber which withdrew from the organization after Attorney-General
Barratt's suit was filed.

In response to questions, Lue-chtfeld testified that in his dealing with the millmen he observed if one company changed its
the other companies followed shortly after. "If one raised,
all raised," he said.

The defense, in cross-examination, sought to establish that work was a staple commodity what. They brought out Luechtfeld's company pure considerable mill work from out-of-town concerns, but he admitted orders were placed through Huttig company.

Benjamin J. Charleville, a estate dealer and builder, testified he erected 40 to 50 dwellings, and that he noted the bids where the price of the work usually ran from $12 $1300, the bids of the different millmen varied in from $10 to $50. He said the ways gave the work to the bidder.

William Lehr of the Keller Contracting Co. was the who said that, before the renew was established, in-salesmen sometimes made which were too low. He never accepted such bids.
for the mistakes of these insnead salesmen, he said, the
